Decision on upkeep of estate defended

COUNCIL chiefs have defended a decision that could see grounds maintenance at the historic Shugborough estate outsourced.

Staffordshire County Council has agreed a deal with public service provider Amey to run its infrastructure for the next five years.

The scheme could include work on the maintenance at Shugborough Hall.

Both the National Trust and English Heritage have raised concerns over the proposals.

But council infrastructure boss councillor Mark Winnington said no decision had yet been made.

Skilled

"We recognise the upkeep of the grounds on the estate need both a sympathetic and skilled approach," he said.

"No changes to current arrangements will be made unless it can be clearly demonstrated it is of benefit to the estate and the county."

Council bosses also insist they have 'the needs of vulnerable residents at heart' over a review of support services received by 17,000 residents.

Cabinet member for care Councillor Alan White said: "We are committed to protecting services for the most vulnerable sections of our community."

Driver freed after collision

A DRIVER was cut free from his car following a crash in Penkridge.

The car had overturned after colliding with a tree in Levedale Road just after midnight on Tuesday.

The 24-year-old driver had a dislocated hip and was taken to the University Hospital North. Staffordshire after emergency crews removed the roof to free him.

Two 17-year-old female passengers were also taken to the same hospital. One suffered a facial injury, but had managed to get out of the car.

TRUST BREAK-UP NOW RATIFIED

CANNOCK Hospital will be run by Wolverhampton health chiefs after it was confirmed Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust will be dissolved.

Around 350 clinical staff from New Cross Hospital will move to Cannock Hospital, while the number of patients treated at the Brunswick Road site will also double.

Services will be also be stripped from Stafford Hospital after the shake-up was confirmed by health secretary Jeremy Hunt yesterday (Wednesday).

Bosses at the Royal Wolverhampton Trust are to run Cannock with the University Hospital of North Staffordshire (UHNS) taking over Stafford.

Cannock Chase District Council leader George Adamson welcomed the move.

Concern

He said: "It is good news for Cannock, 12 to 18 months ago we were seriously worried Cannock Hospital was going to close."

"The fact Wolverhampton is taking over secures our hospital. Our main concern was making sure Cannock stayed open as part of the NHS. It will be a lot better, there should be more services at Cannock."

The controversial moves will see Stafford's A&E opening hours permanently reduced to 14 hours and the number of births delivered reduced by half. Very sick children will no longer be treated at the Weston Road site and major surgery and emergency treatment will take place at neighbouring hospitals.

But Mr Hunt said he had asked NHS England to look at consultant-led maternity returning to Stafford in future.

He said: "Local people

by Rob Gollidge

suffered too much for too long under a system which ignored appalling failures of care in their local hospital.

"They now deserve to know that same system has learned the lessons and is guaranteeing high-quality, safe services for local people. "The proposals I am accepting today will provide just this."

"The strength of public interest in the administrators' work, and the huge response to their consultation exercise, is a testimony to the great commitment local people have to the future of their hospitals."

In January, the health regulator Monitor, approved plans drawn up by administrators to downgrade some services at Stafford Hospital, despite huge opposition from campaigners.

The troubled trust, the focus of one of the biggest NHS scandals, was put into administration 10 months ago after being deemed financially and clinically 'unsustainable'.

The trust is losing around £20 million a year, rising to an estimated £40m by 2017.

The administrators have revealed a £220m overhaul which would see improvements to Stafford, Cannock, New Cross, UHNS, and Walsall Manor.

Yobs smash windows at charity shop

Manager Ellen Tranter looks at the damage caused to the Sue Ryder charity shop in Stafford Road, Cannock YOBS have smashed three windows at a charity shop in an attack branded 'mindless vandalism' by volunteers.

Staff at the Sue Ryder Care shop in Cannock - which only opened in September - were shocked to find three panes had been shattered when they arrived to open up.

It is believed the yobs had used a sledgehammer. Volunteers faced a long clean-up operation after shards of glass were strewn throughout the Stafford Road store.

The windows have since been boarded up and the shop is back in business. But it had to be shut for most of Tuesday, meaning the charity lost out on vital funds.

Mindless

Store manager Ellen Tranter, aged 38, said: "We got in at quarter past eight and walked across the car park and saw there were three massive holes in the windows where someone had hit them with a sledgehammer."

"It makes you so angry - we have lost valuable time and money all because of this."

"How can someone do this to a charity? It's not as if we are a big company - we are trying to help people and this is how some people treat us. It's just mindless vandalism."

Mrs Tranter said the charity, which cares for terminally ill people, is looking for donations of clothes to help make up the shortfall.

Staffordshire Police spokeswoman Hazel Dockery said officers were investigating but no arrests had been made.

Ale trail launched by Camra members

SIXTEEN pubs have signed up to an ale trail in Cannock Chase.

The 'Spring Sprint' has been set up by real ale enthusiasts from the Cannock Chase sub-branch of Camra, which was launched 12 months ago. The trail will start on Saturday (March 1).

Participants have the chance to win a limited edition polo shirt if they visit all the pubs on the trail before April 14.

The pubs are in the Cannock, Hednesford, Cheslyn Hay, Wimblebury, Hazel Slade, Rawnsley, Heath Hayes and Huntington areas.

Attached

Branch spokesman Chris Southall said: "The idea is for participants to have a real ale in each of the pubs and receive a sticker which will be attached to a collectors card. When the card is full it is sent to the organiser for the chance to win the polo shirt."

The Spring Sprint is open to everyone over the age of 18, regardless of Camra membership.

For further information call the sub-branch pubs officer on 07928690210 or e-mail ccsbce@gmail.com

The sub-branch was set up last February to promote the group more locally, protect pubs and campaign against their closures.

Roadworks under way

A £191,000 project to replace damaged kerbs and footpaths in Chadswood has been launched.

The work, along John Street, is expected to be completed by April 7. Temporary traffic lights have been installed and drivers are warned to expect delays.

The road, from its junction with Cannock Road and Huntington Terrace Road, will be resurfaced at the start of April. Similar resurfacing works will take place in Littlewood Road and Littlewood Lane, Cheslyn Hay.

ECONOMY 7 OUT - SHS IN !! (ALL IN 1 DAY)

This incredible heating could be the answer to help beat the ever increasing energy costs and amazingly, it is not, gas or oil, or solid fuel - but electric! It's clean, Simple to install, Powerful, Economical, and more servicing costs - EVER! All you need is a normal electricity supply and a plug socket and NO standard tariff like economy seven.

In Germany, Austria, Eastern Europe and even America, more and more people are choosing to heat their homes and offices with this very special form of electric heating in preference to gas, oil, LPG or any other form of conventional central heating or economy seven.

Here in the Midlands more and more of our customers are making that same decision and when you see this incredible heating for yourself, you could be next!

The heating looks just like a conventional radiator, but STOP! It is very, very different!

Put simply, the clunky central heating boiler needing constant servicing and replacement parts isn't the only choice any more!

Now you can choose to heat your homes, offices, extensions or conservatories with this incredible German heating which provides individual control over every single room without the need for a central control or space to site a boiler. Now the boiler space can also become a storage area!

Installation takes minutes and running is completely clean, there is no danger of leakage, no holes through walls, no floorboards up and no tradesmen trundling around the house wielding pipe cutters, hammers, wrenches and dirty work-boots. This incredible heating, simply plugs in and that's it! Job Done! You can even do just one room or the whole house!

Food entrepreneur's expansion bid

AN entrepreneur is celebrating reaching her unique food venture's first year anniversary with plans to expand and rebrand.

Yvonne Tweddle, aged 39, launched Little Devil dessert snack pots from a factory in Aston in February last year.

Since then her products have been stocked by Harrods, Partridges and Selfridges, including its Bullring store in Birmingham, as well as two independent Edgbaston stores. Her pots of fresh strawberries and choice of three secret recipe chocolate sauces, have just been snapped up by the Co-Op on the Channel Islands.

Mrs Tweddle, of Kings Bromley, near Rugeley, said that another 'major retailer' was also interested in stocking her snack pots.

"I couldn't be more thrilled that we are selling out on the Channel Islands immediately on launching - it's all very positive news.

"To have also recently had major retailer interest, that we are keenly pursuing, is a fantastic way to mark our first anniversary of being in business."

Decided

"The re-launch with a new designed range this spring is aimed at a younger audience. The Little Devil team has also decided to focus on getting the product in major retail chains this year.

Little Devil's re-launch will see the pots of freshly prepared, ready-to-eat strawberries hit the shelves with a range of three special recipe chocolate sauces - dark, milk and white - with the help of three new quirky little characters individual to each pot. For more visit www.littledevil.uk.com

Self-help group is marking first year

A SELF-help group set up in Burntwood for those with poor eyesight celebrates its first birthday this weekend.

Burntwood In-Sight Group is marking the occasion with a coffee morning/information event on Saturday (March 1). It takes place at Chasetown Methodist Church, Lawnswood Avenue from 10am and 1pm. There will be a Guide Dog information stall and a representative of Lichfield Talking Newspaper also present.

The group has grown over the last year and meets monthly for activities, chat and the sharing resources. It entered the Burntwood in Bloom Competition last summer and gained third prize in the community section and has recently been awarded a grant from Burntwood Town Council.

The group, which draws members from Cannock and Tamworth as well as more locally, is looking forward to soon launching its own website.

Its committee is made up of visually impaired members.

Networking for business

LOCAL businesses are getting the chance to network at an event in Stafford next month.

We Mean Business will give 30 firms within the borough of Stafford the chance to set up their own pitch to promote their company and do some local networking.

And other businesses in the area are invited to visit the event at the Moat House Hotel, Acton Trussell, on Wednesday, March 26, to look at the opportunities on offer.

Stafford Borough Council and Stafford Chamber of Commerce are running the event.

Garage moves

SIX jobs have been created by a garage relocation. Halfords Autocentre has moved from Longford Island, in Cannock, to Virage Park, in Green Lane, Bridgton. Manager Steve Hollinshead said: "We're very pleased to be opening the new autocentre."

Union fails in bid to get nurses reinstated

UNION bosses have spent thousands of pounds battling to reinstate two nurses who were struck off over the Mid Staffs NHS scandal.

Sharon Turner, aged 44, and Tracy White, 47, were struck off in July for falsifying A&E discharge times at Stafford Hospital to avoid missing a government goal for patients to be dealt with within four hours.

Bullying is part of life says study

MORE than half of children and young people accept online bullying as part of everyday life, new figures claim.

And 28 per cent of 11-16-year-olds have been deliberately targeted and threatened by one or more people through mobile phones or the internet.

An information website by Staffordshire County Council is now dedicated to helping parents talk to their children about being safe on the internet and giving them advice on how to tackle the subject with their children.

County Councillor Mark Sutton, said: "Online bullying is something that should not be tolerated.

"The internet is a fantastic resource but it does come with pitfalls. With recent stories about the risks young people can take when using the internet, it is more important than ever that parents get clued up."

The Staffordshire Cares website will be taking the internet safety message direct to local schools. The national figures were compiled by the Anti Bullying Alliance.

A Nursing and Midwifery Council hearing ruled that White and Turner were guilty of misconduct and were told they had brought the profession into 'serious public disrepute'.

But it has now emerged that the Royal College of Nursing may have spent up to £50,000 trying to get the decision reversed at the High Court.

It has been reported that the union paid lawyers to argue that the damning evidence against the nurses was just 'hearsay.'

A judge threw out the case in a one-day hearing earlier this month.

Experts

The union, funded by nurses' subscription fees, has refused to say how much it spent on the case but legal experts estimate it would have cost between £10,000 and £50,000.

Stephen Redmond, who chaired the initial hearing at the Old Bailey, told the two nurses that they had failed to put patients and their care first.

A spokesman for the union, which has about 410,000 UK members who pay annual fees of up to £200, said: "In this instance, we felt it was fair and appropriate to represent the defendants in their High Court appeal due to anonymous hearsay evidence having been submitted at the NMC hearing."

Craft fair at wildlife trust HQ

Receptionist Catherine McDonald is ready for the craft fair at the Wolsley Centre WOODCARVINGS, pottery and jewellery will be on offer at a craft fair run by Staffordshire Wildlife Trust next weekend.

The conservation charity is staging the event at its Wolsley Centre base near Rugeley next month from 10am to 4pm on Saturday and Sunday, March 8 and 9.

Stalls will be selling mirror art, soaps, while children will have the chance to make their own sand pictures.

Admission is £1, with proceeds going towards the trust's work. Entry for children is free.

Trust fundraising assistant Sam Pachner said: "This year's fair promises to be bigger and better than ever with over 20 stalls selling some really amazing creations from local craftspeople and artists."

"We're also delighted that visitors can view and buy Fairtrade crafts and gifts from around the world at a special stall."

in briefSantander to close Burntwood outlet

A MAJOR bank is to shut its branches in two locations in Staffordshire.

Santander has announced the closures of its outlets in Burntwood and Lichfield.

The agencies provide limited banking services for Santander.

Previously the bank had looked to third-party agents, such as insurance brokers or estate agents, to expand its UK network. Customers of the Burntwood agency at Swan Island will now have to travel to Four Oaks, Walsall.

College to hold a taster event

PROSPECTIVE students can take a look around South Staffordshire College's newly-refurbished Cannock Campus next week.

An open day is being held at the site, at The Green, on Tuesday, March 4 from 6-8pm.

They will have the chance to find out more about college life, meet tutors, listen to presentations and take tours of the new campus and its impressive facilities including one of the world's first 4D Immersive Learning Spaces.

Invitation to enjoy barn dance at hall

ADULTS and children are invited to a barn dance in Penkridge next weekend.

It takes place at Peace Memorial Hall in Pinfold Lane, Penkridge from 7.30pm on Saturday, March 8.

Tickets cost £7.50 for adults and are free for children.

To sign up or for more information call 01785 714344.

British birds come under the spotlight

BIRDS of the British Isles are the subject of a talk to the Friends of Etching Hill tonight (Thursday).

The free event takes place at Etching Hill church hall from 7.30pm.

Everyone is welcome and refreshments will be provided.

Kickabout success

WOLVES coaches are passing on their knowledge to young people in Cannock.

The Knockabout classes at the Liam Keeling Arena at Cardinal Griffin School, are credited with helping to reduce yobbish behaviour on Friday nights.

More than 300 registered in its first 12 months.

Survey on lapwing sightings launched

WILDLIFE experts are appealing for bird watchers to send in their sightings of a declining species.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust is launching a county-wide breeding lapwing survey in the hopes of building an up-to-date picture of the population of the familiar wading bird.

The trust, which is carrying out the survey in partnership with the British Trust for Ornithology's (BTO) Staffordshire regional representative and the Stafford branch of the West Midland Bird Club, is appealing for sightings between March and May.

BTO figures show that the number of lapwing has fallen by 40 per cent in recent years because of habitat loss and land drainage.

Wildlife trust monitoring officer Scott Petrek said: "With this information we will be able to target conservation work to help promote key breeding areas for the species."

Known for their distinctive 'peewit' call, lapwings are recognisable by their long crest and black and white pattern. They can mainly be seen on farmland and wetland.

Woman hurt in collision

A WOMAN was taken to hospital following a collision on a main road in Cannock.

The crash caused long queues along the A5 Watling Street between Churchbridge and Turf Island from around 6.40am on Monday.

The road was blocked for around an hour affecting the M6 Toll junction seven and cleared by 7.45am. The woman went to Stafford Hospital as a precaution.

A Staffordshire Police spokesman said: "We received a call just after 6.40am to reports of a road traffic collision between a lorry and a blue Ford Focus."

Sappers to meet

THE Cannock Branch Royal Engineers Association holds its monthly meeting at The Drill Hall, Walsall Road, on Tuesday March 4 from 7.30pm. Nominations for committee positions will be sought at the pre-AGM. All Sappers past and present are welcome to attend.

Shopping centre boss joins crime board

Chairman Natal Chapman

CANNOCK Shopping Centre manager Natal Chapman has joined a new board which aims to cut crime across the district.

Ms Chapman is chairman of the Cannock, Rugeley & Hednesford Business Crime Reduction Partnership which was launched last February.

Aimed at reducing or preventing crime taking place in, or close to, local business premises, the Business Crime Reduction Partnership (BCRP) aims to create a safe environment for staff to work in and for the public to visit. This, in turn, will help businesses to grow and develop town centres into vibrant areas.

Shaun Kerrigan, Business Crime Manager, said: "The Business Crime Reduction Partnership follows the protocols set by the overarching county scheme, known as Partners Against Business Crime in Staffordshire (PABCS).

"PABCS regulates and sets a standard for all the local town centre schemes across Staffordshire creating a nationally recognised best practice County scheme that can interact with other regions across the country."

Teamwork

He added: "It's fantastic that Natal is representing Cannock Shopping Centre in this initiative. It is important that local businesses show their support in crime reduction. It's great that the centre understands that with teamwork, together, we can reduce the crime within Cannock and its shopping centres."

Ms Chapman said: "It is great to be able to support such a worthwhile campaign. Since launching the initiative in February last year Cannock, Rugeley and Hednesford BCRP has recorded 298 incidents and, as a result, have collectively warned 86 people culminating in a very low number of repeat offenders which indicates that the scheme is working very well."

For more information on the Cannock, Rugeley & Hednesford Business Crime Reduction Partnership please visit <http://www.pabcs.co.uk/cannock-rugeley-and-hednesford-business-crime-reduction-partnership.asp>

at 'disaster' road claim

UNIONS at the Highways Agency claim the M6 Toll has 'proved a disaster' since it opened 11 years ago.

In written evidence to the House of Commons Transport Committee's better road inquiry, the agency's trade union side said the 27-mile stretch between Cannock and Coleshill had 'proved a disaster both as an investment and as a relief road'.

Poppy seeds giveaway to remember war heroes

A GARDEN centre has launched a Poppies for Our Heroes campaign to commemorate 100 years since the outbreak of the first World War.

The Dobbies Garden Centre initiative is part of its community programme, Here We Grow.

The retailer, at Gailey, has more than 12,000 poppy seeds to give away to local community groups. They are encouraged to plant poppy seeds in March and April to ensure they flower in time for Remembrance Day in November.

Lisa Bird, community champion at Dobbies Garden Centre, Gailey, said: "We are really looking forward to launching our latest Here We Grow campaign, 'Poppies for Our Heroes' and think it's a great way for our local community to mark the 100th anniversary of the start of the First World War. The poppies will serve as a mark of respect."

To apply, contact the community champion at Dobbies store or visit www.dobbies.com

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson agreed. He said he planned to write to Labour leader Ed Miliband to ask him to consider putting the nationalisation of the M6 Toll as an option in the party's General Election manifesto for next year.

"Instead of the Government wasting billions on building HS2 it should nationalise the M6 Toll to relieve the M6," said Councillor Adamson.

Clogging

"It means drivers would use it instead of clogging up the M6 as they do now."

Highways Agency chief executive Graham Dalton told the committee that 35,000 vehicles a day were using the road but 100,000 were using the main M6.

He said: "We are spending a lot to upgrade the old route when, on the face of it, we should be getting more traffic on the toll road."

Tom Fanning, chief executive of M6 Toll operator Midland Expressway, said: "It's nonsense to suggest that the M6 Toll has proved a disaster. Up to 50,000 customers continue to use the M6 Toll each work day."

"This traffic would otherwise be adding to the existing congestion on the M6."

Nick Payne, Midlands and West region director for the Road Haulage Association, said the toll was still a "viable alternative" to the M6.

Children's club marks magic milestone

Nadine Hewitt, aged seven, Ben Hancox, 11 and owner Jo Crabtree celebrate with magician Ian E Mac and Benji

A MAGICIAN was drafted in to add some sparkle to a before and after school club's 10th year anniversary celebrations.

A party was organised by staff at Jozone Kids Club in Burntwood to mark the special occasion and a magician proved to be the star turn.

The club is based at St Joseph and St Teresa RC Primary School in High Street. Ian E Mac provided the entertainment and took Benji his toy sheep dog along. There was also food served and youngsters enjoyed a slice of the 10 year birthday cake.

Celebrate

Owner Jo Crabtree said: "We had a party to celebrate making it to 10 years. Last week the Animal Man came in and the kids loved it. It's great to have made it to 10 years."

Around 25 youngsters aged between three and 11 attend the after school club every morning and afternoon.

Mrs Crabtree set up Jozone at St Joseph and St Teresa after working in the childcare industry for the age of 16.

She added: "I've been working with kids for so many years now. I like seeing the children enjoy themselves and have fun in a safe environment."

Jozone Kids Clubs also run in Chadsmead, Gentleshaw and Great Wyrley.

THE BEST
RHODES

A READER is troubled by the British Gas advert offering "unlimited" call-outs to fix your broken boiler. He says: "It doesn't say much for the quality of the plumbers they employ, does it?" He's got a point. What is the difference between unlimited call-outs and one flaming call-out after another?

□□□□□□□□

FORTY religious leaders condemn government welfare policy and the numbers relying on food banks, and reap a rich crop of headlines ("Bishops Slam Cam Over UK's Hunger Crisis" - Daily Mirror). It is a puzzle of this cheerfully godless age of ours that we still pay attention to the views of people whose only claim to authority is being far more superstitious than the rest of us.

□□□□□□□□

DAVID Miranda this week lost his High Court case claiming he had been unlawfully detained at Heathrow while carrying computer files for his partner, Guardian journalist Glenn Greenwald. Miranda says he will appeal "and keep appealing to the end," and he probably will. A High Court case and subsequent appeals would bankrupt most folk but there always seems to be a bottomless pot of money for people fighting cases such as this. And six months after the incident, we still don't know what Miranda was doing at Heathrow in the first place. His mission was to get from Berlin to his home in Brazil. He could have taken any number of direct flights. Instead, bizarrely, he flew into one of only two countries in the world (the other being the United States) where he was likely to be detained. The flight was arranged and paid for by the Guardian. Amid all the tub-thumping about national security and press freedom, we are not being told even half of this story.

IF I were a conspiracy theorist I might think the Guardian brought Miranda to Heathrow as part of a win-win operation. If he gets nicked you have a great story about the UK authorities attacking press freedom. If he doesn't get nicked, you have a great story about tens of thousands of confidential files slipping in and out of the country under the noses of bungling cops. Gosh, what an old cynic I am.

YOU may not know much about the Large Hadron Collider apart from the fact that it's somewhere underground in Europe and has produced more excited geeks than any physics experiment since the atom bomb. It has cost more than £10,000 million, paid for by European taxpayers (that's you and me) and has not produced a single unit of electricity or fed one hungry child. Now we learn that scientists are planning something four times as big, encased in an 80-mile tunnel under Geneva. It will be so massively expensive that those involved in the project have been ordered not even to make a guess. This has the makings of a great sci-fi story. The boffins who bankrupted a continent.

ONE of the drawbacks of the proposed Very Much Larger Hadron Collider is where to put an estimated 10 million cubic metres of rock from the tunnel. Somerset?

A GREAT little documentary on BBC World Service told how the locals looted (or "saved," as they put it) the cargo of whisky from SS Politician, a cargo ship which sank in 1941 off the Scottish island of Eriskay. The plundering of thousands of cases of single malt was the basis of the book and film Whisky Galore! and has been told many times. But the radio documentary reveals that some islanders were so "under the influence," as one old chap put it, that they forgot where they had buried it. It's still up there...

Military memorial drive given boost

A MEMORIAL project honouring the roles played by Burntwood soldiers during the First World War has received financial backing from the National Lottery.

The Heritage Lottery Fund has provided a £4,000 boost towards the scheme.

Burntwood Family History Group is carrying out the research to mark 100 years since the start of the Great War. Volunteers from the group are working on the Burntwood and District Memorial Project. It focuses on the local men and those from the surrounding districts who gave their lives for their country in the Great War and whose names appear on local memorials.

Delighted

Pam Woodburn, from the group said: "We are delighted to have received the support of the Heritage Lottery Fund. It will enable us to exhibit our work throughout the area and reach other soldiers' families as yet not contacted.

"The project aims to give recognition to these men, with the co-operation of any remaining family members, by producing printed mini-biographies which are then presented to the family and to the county archives.

"A study of these memorials reveals that many of the surnames are still found in the Burntwood, Lichfield, Cannock and Rugeley areas," she added.

Online versions can be viewed at the Group website www.bhfg.org.uk. Burntwood Family History Group has been in existence for almost 30 years and gives help and advice to those people living locally who are interested in tracing their family roots.

Ex-coach pays tribute to girl killed in crash

TRIBUTES have been paid to a teenage girl – a talented young footballer – who died in a crash on her way to school.

Walsall Academy pupil Natasha Whale was a back seat passenger in a car being driven by her mother Shelley, aged 45, which crashed with an Adams Tours coach. She is still fighting for her life.

Natasha's brother, 17-year-old Callum, had been in the front seat of the Renault Clio. He was taken to hospital but has been released.

The family are believed to have lived in St John's Road in Pelsall until they moved to St Paul's Crescent two months ago.

Natasha played for Wyrley Pumas, the female section of Wyrley Juniors FC and later Burntwood Phoenix.

Credit

Wyrley Juniors chairman Keith Hardy, who coached her when she first joined the club, paid tribute to her character and enthusiasm.

He said: "She was a quiet, very well-mannered girl who was very enthusiastic. She was a credit to her family."

"She played as a defender and was very keen. She listened and took on advice and gave her all on the pitch. The club is shocked by what has happened and our thoughts are with her family and friends."

A Facebook page set up in Natasha's memory has been inundated with tributes.

by Charlotte Lilley

Firefighters were called to the scene at Valley Road, Blakenall at 8.15am on Monday.

The road was closed for more than four hours.

Natasha's mother was treated for serious multiple injuries and was airlifted to the major trauma centre at University Hospital of North Staffordshire.

Callum was treated for pelvic injuries and was taken to hospital for further assessment and treatment.

The coach is owned by Adams Tours of Bloxwich and was transporting seven children from Shelfield Academy in Pelsall. The pupils and driver were all said to be unhurt but shocked.

West Midlands Police has launched an investigation into the tragedy.

Inspector Paul Bennett said: "We're working to understand what led to the collision and I would urge anyone who was in the area at the time to contact my officers."

Counterfeit notes case

THREE men have been charged with conspiring together to use counterfeit £20 notes.

Dwain Derby, Thomas Gill and Kyle Wheatley appeared at Cannock Magistrates Court. The conspiracy charge dates back to July last year.

Derby, aged 25, of Endwood Court Road, Handsworth, Wheatley, 23, of Runcorn Road, Balsall Heath and Gill, 26, of Baldmoor Lake Road, Erdington, spoke only to confirm their names, addresses and dates of birth. No pleas were entered. The case was sent to Stafford Crown Court for May 23. They were given bail.

Dads launch fundraising drive

Andy Aldred, front, of Dads, with Freya Griffin, Kate Griffin, Lydia Hulme and Steve Williams

A £100,000 fundraising drive has launched to fund a specialist centre for children with 'hidden' disabilities and special needs which would be based in Cannock.

Andy Aldred and Steve Tunas founded Dads And Disabilities Support (Dads) with the aim of creating a one-stop-shop for children and families with serious conditions.

The centre would provide a consistent and relaxed environment for the children.

Together with his partner Jo Talbot, Mr Aldred, aged 40, has started raising the money with Steve and Steph Williams. They have so far raised £5,000 by collecting unwanted items and selling them on.

Mr Aldred's five-year-old daughter Cody-Jo has disabilities which include chronic lung disease, autism, hypermobility, and asthma. Call Mr Aldred on 07522106195 or visit www.dadssupported.org

Women's network to focus on WWI

THE Midlands region of the Women's History Network will host a conference centring on the First World War next month.

The conference is being held with the National Memorial Arboretum and the University of Worcester and takes place at the Arboretum in Alrewas on Saturday, March 15.

Entitled "Remembering and Writing Women's wartime Lives", it begins with coffee and registration at 10.15am and ends at 3.45pm. The cost, including lunch, is £15, or £10 with concessions.

The speakers, for the most part, will focus on the Great War; the novelists and woman's role; histories of war discovered from letters written by someone in Staffordshire; wartime rationing and moving on to modern day conflicts with the violence as portrayed in Iraqi women's war fiction.

At lunch time there will be the opportunity for delegates to look around the grounds and monuments of the National Memorial Arboretum. Bookings should be made with Dr Janis Lomas before March 10. Email jlomas96@btinternet.com or, for more details, contact Professor Maggie Andrews at maggie.andrews@worc.ac.uk

Engineers sign up to support wildlife

ONE of Staffordshire's biggest employers has pledged its support for nature conservation by signing up as a corporate member of the county's Wildlife Trust.

Engineering firm Alstom has joined the county's largest nature conservation charity.

James Dennison, fund-raising manager at Staffordshire Wildlife Trust, said: "We are absolutely thrilled that Alstom has joined us. By joining forces with the trust, Alstom is playing a vital role in sustaining Staffordshire's wild places and improving the quality of the environment in which its employees, customers and other stakeholders live and work."

"We're really looking forward to working with them."

Owen Landon, environmental health and safety manager at Alstom in Stafford, said: "Alstom is pleased to be working with Staffordshire Wildlife Trust. We aim to expand on projects already run with the trust and to work closely with them."

"The beliefs and aims of the trust sit well with Alstom's corporate social responsibility environmental objectives."

Charges over cloned card

A MAN has appeared at court charged with using a cloned credit card to buy more than £7,000 of cigarettes.

Mohammed Aslam appeared at Cannock Magistrates Court last week on 10 charges of fraud by false representation.

The 28-year-old, of Yar-row Close, Rochdale, Lancashire also faces two charges of possessing a cloned credit card.

Aslam spoke only to confirm his name, address and date of birth. No pleas were entered. The case was sent to Stafford Crown Court on May 23. Aslam was bailed.

Police dog pioneer dies on 98th birthday

Stanley Peck

A FORMER Staffordshire Police Chief Constable who helped pioneer the role of police dogs has died on his 98th birthday.

Stanley Peck had joined the Metropolitan Police before the war where he was put in charge of a new division at Scotland Yard that oversaw the training of police dogs.

He became a strong advocate of the use of dogs in the prevention and detection of crime, and throughout his career played a leading role in raising the profile of police dogs across the country.

When he moved to Staffordshire as Assistant Chief Constable in 1954, Mr Peck started up a dog section in the county.

During his time as Chief Constable, from 1960 to 1964, he launched a review of dog training throughout Britain, visiting all the main training schools and establishing the National Police Dog Trials — an annual event to provide a platform for officers and their dogs to demonstrate their skills and expertise.

A trophy for best obedience work is named the Stanley Peck Trophy in his honour.

He was appointed HM Inspector of Constabulary in 1964, and continued to attend the trials, and when he became a member of the British Rail Board Police Committee following his retirement, he did much to encourage the revival of a police dog section within the British Transport Police.

He was born in 1916 on January 24 in Shanghai where his father was serving in the municipal police force.

Aged 11, he was sent on the six-week boat journey back to England with his younger brother Barry to take up a place at Chigwell House prep school, later going on to Solihull School.

After school, he briefly studied dentistry at the University of Birmingham before he signed up for the Metropolitan Police and was one of 197 trainees to be recruited to the Hendon Police College when it first opened in the pre-war years as an accelerated promotion college.

Mr Peck returned to police duties just before the outbreak of war. He died on January 24.

Deals approved as part of council spending cuts

TWO major deals as part of huge spending cuts by Staffordshire County Council have been approved. The measures could save taxpayers £21.5 million over five years.

Around 300 staff could be affected by outsourcing infrastructure and maintenance work as part of a 10-year contract with public service provider Amey to repair the county's roads, maintain country parks and the grounds of the Shugborough Estate.

Staff contracts and employee arrangements are still to be finalised but the council is not expecting any compulsory redundancies.

Plans for a single £4 million flagship archive centre serving the whole county were approved which will see Stafford's William Salt Library move from its home of nearly 100 years and the Lichfield Record Office close, saving £76,000 a year.

The county council wants to build an extension to Stafford Record Office to house the majority of Staffordshire's historic material in one building.

The authority is making a bid to the Heritage Lottery Fund for £3.6 million to help pay for the costs.

The extension will include exhibition space and an additional 15 to 20 years expansion room.

The council needs to save £102 million over five years. Heritage and culture boss Councillor Mike Lawrence said: "We have a fascinating archives collection in the county and I want even more people to be able to enjoy them."

"I am delighted the cabinet have approved the proposals, allowing us to deliver a much better service to all our visitors, while helping to protect our records for many years to come."

English Heritage stressed the 'heritage importance' of the Shugborough Estate.

It questioned whether Amey had 'the skill and experience needed to deliver high quality highway engineering works' for the 'necessary for the upkeep of a major historic site such as Shugborough'.

Dance classes in Can-Can-nock

Maggie Palmer, left with the dance students on their first Can-Can dance lesson in Cannock

A DANCE instructor is launching classes with a difference in Cannock.

Maggie Palmer is teaching the Can-Can — and decks students out from head to toe in the costumes.

She held a trial event at Cannock's Avon Business and Leisure Centre last Saturday and is now hoping to roll out sessions across Wolverhampton too.

Having been a dance teacher for 32 years and run her own Maggie's Marvellous Movers school, she recently trained in burlesque and cabaret and now wants to pass on her skills. She says the disciplines can improve fitness and give women a self-esteem boost.

The 49-year-old said: "I've got a massive passion for this and I really want to put it on the map."

"The women have loved it — it lifts everyone up and they leave feeling exhilarated and good about themselves."

"These are normal women with normal jobs but it is great for improving fitness and someone can start without any experience. It is something a bit different and they all get to dress up in these fantastic dresses, gloves and feather boas."

Mrs Palmer, a mother of two and grandmother of one, is also preparing to start a burlesque fitness group.

"It's quite demanding and you do feel like you have done a workout at the end of it," she added.

Maggie has performed in shows across the country and even took a troupe to the auditions of Britain's Got Talent in 2007. She is now focusing on getting women across the Midlands interested in dance.

4G network now covering town

MOBILE phone operator EE has switched on its 4G internet connectivity in Cannock.

The turn-on came on last week across 14 towns and 18 airports.

EE chief executive Olaf Swantee said: "More towns right across the UK now have access to the country's biggest 4G network."

"We are leading the way with 4G, with twice as much coverage as any other provider."

Mr Swantee added the firm was looking to improve call quality.

Pharmacy wins top branch award

THE Midcounties Co-operative Pharmacy in Cannock has been crowned community branch of the year at the society's annual awards.

The pharmacy, in Market Hall Street, was recognised for its commitment to the community through healthy living events and its partnership with the Stroke Association. The team's fundraising work was also praised.

Pharmacy manager Tracey Kiek said: "It means a lot to have been recognised with this award."

SO, the men's curling team failed to make gold at the Winter Olympics.

Truth be told, I was a little surprised, I would have thought if there was any sport the British should be good at, it would involve young men in orange jump suits sweeping up stones with a brush.

Or Community Payback, as it is sometimes known.

MALFUNCTIONING vending machines are right up there with pay-and-display car parks and automated telephone-answering services when it comes to the scourges of modern life.

Their operators rake in a fortune from poor unfortunate individuals who put money into them for no reward, before meekly walking away having decided that a 60p bar of chocolate is not worth going to war over.

Raise a glass, then, to Afghan war veteran Robert McKeivitt, who is clearly made of much sterner stuff.

Feeling a snack gap during his shift in a warehouse, he tried to buy a Twix from his work's vending machine.

The machine swallowed his money without delivering the goods, so showing commendable restraint he put another coin in the slot.

Deciding that a more direct approach was needed, he then took a forklift truck to the errant machine, allegedly dropping it six times onto the floor, eventually releasing three Twix bars from the dispenser.

He got the sack, of course, but he did get a free Twix for his trouble. And struck a blow for disgruntled consumers everywhere.

NEXT time political commentators start banging on about the poor turnouts at elections in this country, remember the carnage that is taking place in the Ukraine at the moment and be grateful that the British are so splendidly indifferent.

The Ukraine is a country divided, split down the middle between those who want greater links with what remains of the old USSR, and those who seek closer ties with the European Union.

How people can get so worked up over politics seems ridiculous to us in Britain. But of course, all we have to worry about is which band of London-centric, well-to-do liberal types get the ministerial limos for the next five years, so it is hard to get too excited one way or the other.

By comparison, the choices facing the people of the Ukraine are stark indeed. Half of the people seem to want to be ruled by an unelected, undemocratic empire which will suppress their liberty and stamp out their sovereignty. And the other half want to be ruled by Russia.

Statue to honour 'Forgotten Army'

A lasting tribute to unsung wartime heroines is to be erected. ROB GOLLEDEGE reports on its unveiling

THEY filled the roles of men who had gone to fight for their country - working long and labourious days on farms and in the forests.

To forever remember the Land Girls and Lumberjills of the Women's Land Army and Women's Timber Corps from the First and Second World Wars, a sculpture has been specially commissioned in their honour in a fitting tribute at the National Memorial Arboretum.

Its design was unveiled to a gathering of former Land Girls in the county with a scale clay model.

When complete, the bronze sculpture will be a one-and-a-quarter life size monument of a Land Girl and Lumber Jill as depicted in war time recruitment posters.

It will become a focal point for remembrance and recognition of the legacy and achievements of the women who kept their country fed while the two conflicts were fought overseas.

Forests

The Women's Land Army first formed in 1917 and during the Second World War, more than 80,000 land girls were producing 70 per cent of Britain's food.

The Women's Timber Corps worked in forests and sawmills producing pit props, railway sleepers and barricades.

It disbanded in 1946, although the Women's Land Army was required to keep working for a further four years. In total, nearly a quarter of a million land girls and lumber jills served the country.

In total the project will cost between £85,000 and £100,000. Around £65,000 has already been raised. It is being organised by the Staffordshire Women's Food and Farming Union - who have set up the Women's Land Army Tribute. The sculpture is currently being worked on by artist Denise Dutton whose great aunt Sheila Creasy served as a land girl. It is due to be unveiled at the arboretum in Alrewas on May 1.

Mary Wright, 83, became a Land Girl in 1947 during the active years of the Land Women's Army after the Second World War until disbandment in 1950.

Originally from Walsall, she took up duties on a farm near Hoar Cross. She has remained in farming ever since living and running a farm at Four Crosses near Cannock. She helped launch the she worked at Lotus Shoes in the county town where she used to trial new fashions. At 18 she joined the Women's Land Army in 1942, serving until 1945.

She first worked at a farm in Walton-on-the-Hill, and then at a farm near where the Staffordshire County Showground is today.

She said: "Everything I did was done by hand. I used to start at 7am because I had had two milk rounds and we used big churns. I could be working until 11pm doing things like hay stacking and then have to be back up again at 7am.

"We enjoyed it. We all remember the good times.

Eunice Finney, press officer for the Women's Land Army Tribute, said: "It is high time these fantastic women were recognised as they changed the face of agriculture during the war.

Ceremony

"Many of these ladies have sadly passed away, but we are determined to honour those that are able to attend the opening ceremony and remember those who are no longer with us."

A call for a sculptor was put out in August 2013 and Miss Dutton was chosen from a shortlist of six.

Miss Dutton said: "It's a great honour to have a part in the Women's Land Army tribute. It was such a great project to be involved with."

A fundraising drive to pay for her latest work was launched two-and-a-half years ago by the Staffordshire Women's Food and Farming Union.

They have relied on donations from the public. The plinth of limestone for the sculpture has been donated by Longcliffe Quarries Ltd from Bakewell in Derbyshire. Around £20,000 is still needed to fund long-term maintenance and insurance.

The Staffordshire Women's Food & Farming Union is looking for former Land Girls and Lumberjills who want to attend May's ceremony.

They are also after donations to help the project. Call 01889272777 or visit www.womenslandarmytribute.co.uk

Pye, who starred alongside Billy Wright and Jimmy Mullen in the all-conquering Wolves sides of the 1950s, scored a hat-trick on his debut after signing for a fee of £10,000 in 1946. He also scored in the 1949 FA Cup final victory over Leicester City.

Final brick put in place at memorial for miners

Simon Kelsall works to add more names to the rows of bricks at the mining memorial in Hednesford

THE final named brick has been laid at a miners' memorial in Hednesford, taking the total to 3,500.

The memorial, recognises thousands of miners who worked at the Cannock Chase coalfields.

Members of Chase Arts In Public Space (Chaps) started the project in 2012 and it was extended to this year due to demand from the public.

Mike Mellor, vice chairman of Chaps, said: "This is the final phase, although we said that last time, I really do think this will be the last phase though. We've been overwhelmed by the interest from the public."

A date for a dedication ceremony has also been announced. The special service, led by the former Bishop of Manchester Nigel McCulloch, will take place on April 26 from 2pm.

Mr Mellor added: "We'll be writing to all of the phase three people and inviting them along to the dedication service."

Phase one of the project saw bricks engraved with the names of former miners being built into the wall which surrounds the iconic Davy Lamp in Hednesford. Phase two and phase three bricks were laid around the flower beds next to the wall. The final brick was laid last week.

The first 1,000 bricks were laid in 2012. The project proved so popular that members of Chaps took on more applications for another two phases. Chaps has received applications for named bricks from as far away as Canada.

One man put an order in for three bricks to remember three members of his family who worked in the coalfields. More than 1,000 people gathered in Hednesford in 2012 to mark the dedication of the miners' memorial for phase one.

LETTERS

Country is brought to its knees

I THINK anyone submitting a letter to The Chronicle should be obliged to publish any current or former political membership. Week after week we are brainwashed with leftist letters from the same writers.

Paul Witten in his letter about Nazi uniforms and stag parties was on a political witch-hunt, reminding me of how the Nazis operated for political gain, where fact and fairness played no part, destroying their own country in the process.

Although I was born just after World War II, I will never forgive or forget what the Nazis did. Neither will I forget what the last Labour government did, bringing our country to its knees.

The real kick in the teeth to our brave veterans must surely be the betrayal of political parties and even police forces who perjure themselves to discredit elected government officials.

County council abdicates responsibility

THE decision by county councillors to cease the provision of day services for people with a learning disability raises a very important question.

Yes it may save the county council money. However what implications does it have for people with a learning disability and their families?

Making use of the community facilities is one answer.

Yet the so-called "mainstream services" are by no means accessible to people with a learning disability without proper support.

In a society in which nine out of 10 people with a learning disability are victims of hate crime it is not enough to give vulnerable people a sum of money and expect them to live a full and meaningful life without the proper support, is an abdication of responsibility by the county council as the statutory authority. It also places more responsibility on families and carers who are already in some cases at breaking point.

Choice, opportunity and respect are values that we should all share. However much work is needed to raise the awareness of the positive roles individuals with a learning disability bring to their communities and many changes need to be made before individuals can be included as full citizens in our society.

TONY JOHNSON, Hednesford

Glimmer of hope on European union vote

THANKS to the House of Lords, we, the people of the once Great Britain, look likely to be denied a democratic vote as to whether we stay in Europe or not. There is one glimmer of hope though.

'Call me Dave' has said if we let him in again then he will allow us to vote - honest. Like we are going to make that mistake twice. Those of us with memories longer than a goldfish's will remember that same promise before he was elected last time.

Apparently he couldn't deliver because he wasn't elected with a clear majority and therefore had no mandate. Strange that he did feel it was okay to use the honours system to tip his barber with an MBE, redefine marriage, scrap historic military units like 3rd Mercian (the Staffords), the Ark Royal, Nimrods, Harriers, etc, etc, all without a mandate.

No, I don't think I will vote on the basis of one of his promises.

Emergency problems

RE the letter 'More traffic comes through town daily' (Chronicle, January 30). I was travelling along Horse Fair towards Rugeley when an ambulance and a response car, blue lights flashing, were trying to come up through Horse Fair towards the bridges. They were stuck in the traffic and couldn't get by. After a minute or so, someone got out of a lorry and moved the cones to let them through. How are these emergency vehicles going to get through when it is one lane?

A CONCERNED RESIDENT

MP praise never heard

I AGREE with MP Sir Gerald Howarth, give our MP a break. He is not the only one to make mistakes, we have all done some daft things in our lives.

Mr Burley is the only MP in Cannock that has made it possible for ordinary people to see the Houses of Parliament. I have never before heard of being given the chance by past MPs who have represented Cannock.

They are quick at knocking him for one daft moment, I don't hear praise for all the good he does.

JL, Cannock

Insensitive and foolish

I BELIEVE Aidan Burley's actions regarding the Nazi-themed stag night, were, on the whole, foolish, and very insensitive.

I find the idea of an educated young man buying a Nazi uniform despicable.

Wealthy fly under the radar and get richer

WE are in this country suffering from many problems caused by government cuts. Floods, potholes, elderly care, illegal immigrants, the list goes on. Although we don't like it we will have to pay more tax.

Councils are being devastated and can no longer offer many services, police, Government agencies, fire services and hospitals have been subjected to cuts.

All this while the population rises, we are told for the good of the country.

We are on the road to nowhere with the poor getting the blame for all our ills and the rich flying under the radar and getting richer.

R ALLEN
Great Wyrley

No one takes blame for the mess we're in

THE Labour Leader of Cannock Council (Letters, February 6), plays his recording of "Bad Tory County, Good Labour Council" far too long.

The truth is that none of the main parties will accept their role in creating the mess we are in.

The so called massive coalition cuts have still allowed Gordon Brown's debt to double to £1.5 trillion.

While ever the Lib/Lab/Con fiasco plays on we have thrown the money saved in the "cuts" into the bottomless pit that is the EU.

Why?

NEWS

Homes are planned on site of old village pub

A FORMER pub in a village near Rugeley could be transformed into a housing development.

The old Royal Oak in Hill Ridware will be demolished and replaced by 42 houses if the scheme is approved by councillors.

The development includes a mixture of two, three and four-bedroom semi-detached and detached homes.

Each property will have at least two car parking spaces.

The application, from CH Froggatt & Sons, states: "The site is in close proximity to employment, service and social facilities, with day-to-day facilities available within close proximity which can be reached by bus or cycle."

Attractive

"A footpath and cycle link through the site to Hawkhurst Drive is also proposed. This will increase permeability of the site for both future residents and those already living within the village."

"The residential area has been designed to create an attractive and safe environment with well defined public and private areas for households."

By Laura Blyth

Extensive public consultation was undertaken in relation to the proposed scheme.

An exhibition of the plans was staged at Hill Ridware Village Hall in September. Around 200 residents attended the consultation with concerns raised over traffic, school provision and issues relating to drains. The proposed site, off Uttoxeter Road Hill, is not far from the Grade II listed Ridware Hall, Coach House and Stables.

A decision will be made by Lichfield District Council over the coming months.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people

I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Team presidents Pam McGauley and Sue Gay at the club's annual dinner

HAVING already celebrated its 59th anniversary at its annual dinner, Cannock District SI will begin its Diamond year at its AGM in April.

Many special events are being organised to mark the milestone.

The club will also allow plenty of fun and friendship whilst raising awareness of and funds for many projects to educate, empower and enable women throughout the world.

The Soroptimists would particularly like to invite past members to join them during

HEDNESFORD 'A' TG

JANUARY'S luncheon club was held at Gordon's Restaurant within the Cannock Campus of South Staffordshire College.

The students must be complimented on the well presented and tasty food and the usual high standard of Silver Service. There was a varied choice of menu and is highly recommended for very good value for money. February's venue will be at the White Hart pub.

There was no guild meeting in January. At the February meeting Debbie Rushbrooke gave interesting information about her role and including the activities and services that Katharine House offers to the community. A cheque for £250 was presented to show the guild's appreciation of the its work. New member Doreen Fellows was welcomed to her first meeting.

The next meeting on March 10 will be the AGM and there will be a 'Ramp up the Red' Day in aid of the British Heart Foundation.

FEBRUARY 5 was a members' meeting, so it was time for the committee to sit back and let others run the evening.

It started with the usual business and minutes of the previous meeting and correspondence all ably presented by our members who were standing in for the secretary and president.

The theme of the members' meeting was recipe based. It started with a very entertaining card game where the ladies had to collect ingredients for a particular recipe and then went onto the main event of the evening, the recipe share. Members had produced their favourite recipe and written out the details so everyone could all try the food and take a copy of the recipe home.

Members had made such a variety of recipes. Food varied from a Caribbean fruit curry to chocolate chip trifle to coconut biscuits, bread and butter pudding, brandy bomb, dip and mini poppadoms to name but a few.

It also provided a trip around the culinary world.

There was also discussion about the forthcoming extra events that the club will be running this year. The programme secretary is co-ordinating visits to the cinema, theatre, National Trust as well as lunches out.

The next meeting which is our AGM is on March 5 at 7.30pm in Ford Lane in the centre of the village.

Mental health feedback

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley is calling on people to share their experiences of having or knowing someone with mental health issues.

The Care Quality Commission (CQC) is seeking feedback from anyone who has tried to get help in a crisis, particularly in the last two years, to help improve its understanding of how local services respond.

Mr Burley said: "I welcome the CQC's appeal for people to share their experiences of the care they received."

Visit www.cqc.org.uk/mentalhealthcrisis to comment.

Washed-up plaque is identified by widow

THE mystery of a plaque to a Burntwood man that was washed up in the floods has been solved after his widow came forward.

A park ranger stumbled upon the memorial to Victor George Whereat on the banks of the Great Ouse river in Bedfordshire and an appeal was launched to help trace the owner.

Christine Whereat was surprised to hear that the plaque had been washed away but delighted that it was in safe hands. "I didn't even know it was missing," she said.

"I'm very grateful for all the efforts people have made to return it to us."

Mrs Whereat's husband was a draughtsman and lawn-mower salesman whose customers included the owner of the 18th century stately home Turvey House, home of the former Lord of the Manor of Turvey.

Mr Whereat and Lord Hanbury, as he was known, became friendly and the Burntwood man was invited to fish on the 150-acre private estate.

Erected

Mr Whereat regularly drove to the estate between Bedford and Northampton to spend the day on the riverbank, and when he died aged 84 three years ago, his wife Christine and son Ashley asked whether his memorial nameplate could be erected there.

The plate read: 'In loving memory of a good father and true English gent. May you rest in peace and happily wander these fields freely forever.'

The bronze-effect plaque was dragged from its position when the river flooded. It was found by Richard Dowsett, a senior ranger at Harrold-Odell Country

The washed-up plaque

Park, north Bedfordshire, as he sorted through debris which had been washed up.

He realised the memorial, mounted on hardwood, had become detached from a post upstream but could not work out exactly where it had come from.

Armed with Mr Whereat's dates of birth and death, he searched the electoral register and located an address in Burntwood. Mrs Whereat, aged 70, who now lives at Wedges Mills, said: "My husband used to take our son with him when he went fishing to the estate, and we scattered his ashes there."

Mr Dowsett said it would be good to reunite the plaque with its owner. "It's brilliant to be able to give it back," he said.

Open auditions for youngsters in film projects

CANNOCK youngsters are invited to audition for 10 new short film projects taking place this year.

Class Act Film workshops are holding open auditions for young actors aged from seven to 17. Screenplays are currently being written for the projects.

The open auditions are being held on Saturday, March 8 from 2-7pm at Studio One The Custard Factory, Gibb Street, Digbeth, Birmingham.

Those who are successful will go on to star in a short film, work with professional directors and crew on film projects and be invited to premiere screenings of their performances. All filming will take place locally with workshop classes held on Monday evenings at St Luke's Community Centre in Cannock. Training, direction and rehearsal will be provided by professional acting coaches and directors. No experience is necessary.

Slots

Audition priority will be given to those who have booked, with five-minute slots available per performer.

To organise an audition or for further details, email filmworkshops@aol.com or visit www.rehearsall.co.uk

Under-18s must not attend without parental permission.

Unknown soldier mystery is solved

The picture found in the attic of an unknown soldier whose picture was found during a clear-out at a Great Wyrley home has been identified.

Doreen Cornock recognised the man in uniform as her uncle Tom Wootton.

Great Wyrley Local History Society had appealed for help after the soldier could not be identified. The picture was discovered in the attic of Thomas Parson's home in the village. None of the family recognised the subject, but, thanks to Mrs Cornock, nee Dunn, it turned out it to be her uncle, Mr Parson's cousin.

Mr Wootton was born in 1895 to Tom and Ruth Wootton in Great Tom Wootton as a showground worker Wyrley. In the 1911 census Tom was 16-years-old and an edge tool maker.

At the onset of the First World War, Tom, his brother Jack and their cousin enlisted in the Medical Corps.

A History Society spokesman said: "They were strong Primitive Methodists and would not bear arms. This is the uniform Tom is wearing in the picture."

Taking up the story, she added: "In 1925 Tom emigrated to Australia. He sailed from London aboard the Ormond. Although a trained blacksmith he was hoping to farm, but the land he was allocated was of very poor quality, so he decided to make for Perth. He Tom pictured shortly before his death met many Aborigines on his way, making friends and working with them.

"Eventually he arrived in Perth and took a job as a supervisor in the Royal Showground, Claremont. Tom was a qualified judge of pedigree cats and rabbits."

While in Australia, Tom married Annie, who had emigrated Down Under with her parents as a child.

His wife had two children from her first marriage, to a soldier who had been killed in the war. They had no children of their own.

Tom lived until his late 60s but died in an 'accident' with a shot gun. It was thought he was climbing over a fence when he tripped and fell and the gun fired, killing him instantly.

Nandor Pekar with his wife Gwen in a restaurant in Budapest in 1986

Nandor and his family on a holiday to Mogyoroska

Richard Pekar, whose book is going to be filmed, with Professor Peter Rudge

Nandor, a keen motorcyclist, on his bike in 1957

Father's story to be made into a £4m film

NANDOR Pekar was forced to flee his native Hungary in 1956 after taking part in the uprising against Russian occupying forces.

He arrived in Staffordshire where he found sanctuary, a job and love. But 30 years on, after leaving suicide notes to his family, he took his own life aged 48.

His remarkable and ultimately tragic story was written down and finished by his son Richard, a product development leader at Rugeley's Armitage Shanks.

Now the tale has been picked up by Stafford-movie company Grand Independent who want to turn it into a £4million film.

Mr Pekar, 45, said: "It's a fantastic feeling, no words can describe it. My dad would be completely over the moon because he started writing the story when I was 10. Now I have finished it for him."

When the Revolution started on October 23, Nandor Pekar was primed for action. Nandor was based just outside Budapest with a group of student rebels whose job was to ambush Russian tanks heading for the capital. They petrol-bombed the vehicles and, where possible, stole their weapons.

In less than a week the Russians had been beaten back and a new moderate Prime Minister had taken office, restoring democracy and freedom of speech. But within days he announced that Hungary was going to leave the Warsaw Pact, a move that saw 1,000 Russian tanks roll into Budapest on November 4. They proceeded to destroy the Hungarian army.

An estimated 30,000 people were killed and around 200,000 fled to the west leaving all they possessed. Nandor, devastated by their failure to secure victory, was among the last to leave.

By then the borders were rammed with Soviet guards. He was advised not to chance an escape but he was determined.

The title of his son's book, Last Train To Budapest, was inspired by a conversation they had on a trip back to Hungary years later, when Richard was around 10.

The book, published in 2006, has already been filmed when students at Staffordshire University's Stafford campus made a short movie. The 35-minute film, premiered at the university in 2010, was funded by £6,000 lottery grant, topped up with a £4,000 donation from the local Hungarian Community Association.

The new film will be premiered in London and New York.

Abigail defies the odds and passes her test

Abigail Elstone with her driving instructor Rachel Allport, celebrating after passing her driving theory test

A TEENAGER with learning difficulties has achieved something she was told she would never do - learn how to drive.

Aged just seven, Abigail Elstone was told she would not be able to get behind the wheel because she has dyslexia and dyscalculia.

Dyslexia is difficulty in reading or comprehending arithmetic, so it was feared she would be unable to pass a theory test. But determined to prove everyone wrong, she is now on the road with a full licence after finally passing her theory at the ninth attempt and her practical test first time round.

The 18-year-old Cannock College hairdressing student said she was never going to give up.

Amazing

She said: "It feels so amazing to be able to drive. Even though it took nine times to pass the theory I did not want to give in."

Abigail, of Burntwood, attended Hednesford Valley High School, and had driving lessons with Rachel's Driving School in Cannock.

Keep active plea to elderly

DOCTORS are advising older patients across Cannock and Rugeley to keep active to help take the edge off the cold weather.

GPs say physical activity can also help the elderly stay independent and help improve their sense of wellbeing. Being too inactive can have a negative impact on both physical and mental health, they warn.

Dr Johnny McMahon, chairman of Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) said: "Keeping active is the key to staying fit, mobile and independent."

Drugged up sex pest in rape bid is sent to jail

A DRUG-FUELLED Cannock bodybuilder who set out to rape two women – pouring a corrosive substance over one after trying to strangle her – is behind bars.

Thomas Morris, of Foxtail Way, Wimblebury, was pumped up on steroids, the amphetamine M Cat and Viagra when he carried out the two sexually-motivated assaults, Stafford crown court was told.

In one terrifying attack, the 20-year-old tricked his way into a victim's home by claiming he had seen an intruder in her garden.

Morris then put a cloth over her face, tried to strangle her and, while she was unconscious, poured a corrosive substance on her body, leaving her with burns.

He had planned to sexually assault the woman but left without doing so.

It was the second of two assaults by Morris in the same day. Earlier, he had taken a young woman to a secluded spot near Chasewater Country Park.

Danger

She had managed to push him away and get free. He later took her back to Walsall, the court heard.

Morris was branded a 'devious liar' and a 'danger to women' by a judge and was sentenced to five years and eight months.

Judge Michael Elsom said Morris had intended to rape both women but the reasons he failed to do so were not known.

He told him: "You had

Thomas Morris

taken Viagra. The only reason you had taken it was to enhance your sexual performance."

Morris admitted two charges of assault with intent to commit a sexual offence.

He also admitted inflicting grievous bodily harm, assault causing actual bodily harm and assault by beating.

Judge Elsom imposed a five-year licence period on Morris's release.

He will also have to register as a sex offender indefinitely.

Attacks fuelled by predator's use of steroids

SEXUAL predator Thomas Morris had 'deep set problems' fuelled by his use of drugs, Stafford crown court was told.

Morris's hobby of bodybuilding had led him to frequently use substances, including steroid injections.

The 20-year-old was pumped up on drugs including injecting viagra when he carried out two terrifying, sexually motivated assaults.

He tricked his way into one of his victim's homes and overpowered her by putting a damp cloth over her face. When the woman woke up around two hours later her clothes had been ripped and a corrosive liquid had been poured on her body and left her with burns.

Morris later claimed the woman had been attacked by an unknown intruder and he had tried to resuscitate her.

Mr Stephen Bailey, proscuting, said it was the second assault Morris had carried out on September 5.

In the early hours of the day, Morris had taken his first victim to Chasewater and attacked her after asking 'does anyone know you're here?' He put a gloved hand over her mouth and said 'don't scream'.

She managed to push him off and Morris said "Only joking – would not hurt a girl".

He eventually took her back to Walsall but she was shaken and upset.

Mr Paul Lamb, defending Morris, said: "His use of steroids made him impotent. He tried viagra but because of the use of the steroids it had little effect."

Judge Michael Elsom said: "You tried to persuade others you were a paragon of innocence and virtue. Nothing could be further from the truth."

Free five-a-side footie on offer to teenagers

YOUNG people can try five-a-side football for free in Burntwood next week.

Lichfield District Council is offering a free Futsal taster session to 14-to-18-year-olds who live or go to school in Burntwood.

The session takes place at Erasmus Darwin Academy on Friday February 28, from 8.30pm to 10pm.

Futsal is a growing craze in which football is played with a smaller, heavier ball indoors with two teams of five.

The taster session will be followed by a Futsal tournament on Friday nights over four weeks in the spring. Tournament times are 9-10pm on Fridays 7, 14 and 28 March and April 4.

To find out more, visit www.lichfielddc.gov.uk/sports-development or call 01543 308835.

Artist will be guest of honour for club meet

A POPULAR wildlife artist will be the guest of a Rugeley club next month.

Renaissance of Rugeley presents an Evening with Pollyanna Pickering on Thursday, March 13.

The club was formed 16 years ago from Soroptimist International of Rugeley and meets on the second Monday of each month at St Joseph's Community Centre, Rugeley.

Its aims are to be a local service organisation that supports the needs of the local community and has raised thousands for charities including Rugeley Food Bank, Rugeley First Responders, Katharine House and St Giles Hospices, the Samaritans, Acorns and the Oak-tree Project.

Pollyanna's talk, Temples, Tigers and a Bear Called Polly, takes place at Colton Village Hall, from 7.30pm.

The price is £6 to include tea, coffee and cake. Tickets are available from Ruth Williams on 01889 578393. E-mail her at ruth.williams@westpoplars.co.uk for more information.

Age proves no barrier at care home fitness class

Gwyn Williams, aged 102, front, gets fitness tips from personal trainer Tony Gore, 83, at Lakeview Care Home

FITNESS trainer Tony Gore proved age is no barrier to keeping fit when he led an exercise class at a Great Wyrley care home – at the age of 83.

To make the class even more remarkable, one of his pupils, Welshman Gwyn Williams, was 102.

Mr Williams, who served in the Army in Burma and India, used to play rugby in his youth and enjoyed keeping fit into his old age.

He joined other residents in the armchair keep fit class led by Tony at Lakeview Care Home, Stafford Road.

Tony is shattering the pensioners' "pipe and slippers" stereotype by continuing to work as a personal trainer.

He shared his secrets for keeping sharp and supple when he led a session for residents.

Active

Organisers said they hoped the armchair exercise class would inspire residents and staff alike to get more active at the home, run by Alpha Care Homes.

Tony, a former RAF physical training instructor, also did parachute training and rock climbing with the RAF and was a voluntary gym instructor at Folkestone College from 2009-11. He still leads a weekly Young at Heart aerobics class at Hythe Retirement Club in Kent – where he is older than all of his pupils.

He believes he is now the oldest personal trainer in the country and said: "If you keep yourself fit and don't sit about watching TV all night but keep yourself moving, you can add another 10 years to your life."

Lakeview Care Home activities coordinator, Chris Carr, said residents and staff had enjoyed Tony's visit.

"Tony's visit was something quite unique and inspiring," she said.

Old music shop to open as hair salon

A LANDMARK former music shop in Cannock, which closed in 2012, is to reopen as a hair and beauty salon, creating six jobs.

Musically Yours in Walsall Road closed as a victim of the recession after trading for almost 30 years.

Workmen are currently refurbishing the building before it opens as Crayg Ward, a hair and beauty salon, on March 9.

Hednesford North Councillor Sheila Cartwright will cut the ribbon.

Mr Ward, who is 23 and has been a hairdresser for the past eight years, said: "We're spending about £40,000 on refurbishing the building and turning into a hair and beauty salon."

"My parents bought the shop as a long-term investment."

"It's a good location. We didn't want to be in the town centre. It's on a main road and there's plenty of parking in the area."

Mr Ward said there would be six members of staff in total working at the salon. The popular music shop closed in May 2012. Hundreds queued to bag a bargain when the store sold off its old stock for rock-bottom prices.

Musically Yours had been trading for 28 years before it shut, with bosses blaming the recession for a decline in trade. A clearance sale of its stock took place with up to 75 per cent off all retail prices.

They included guitars, ukuleles, violins, drums, cymbals and other percussion instruments.

Amplifiers, microphones, speakers, portable pianos, keyboards and accordions were also sold at a cut price.

Around 400 people queued from early in the morning for the clearance sale. The queue stretched all along Walsall Road to the traffic lights as bargain hunters were attracted by the offer of low prices.

Police plea on cash theft from nail bar

THIEVES made off with cash following a break-in at a nail salon in Cannock.

Police are appealing for witnesses to the burglary, which happened at Posh Nails in Walsall Road between 7.30am and 7.50am on Monday.

Investigating officer Pc Warren Saunders said: "This salon is in a very busy area and the break-in happened at a time when many people would have been travelling through the area to work."

"I was alerted to this incident when I was flagged down by a member of the public on the A34/Walsall Road near the college."

"I was told that someone had just broken into the salon and was still there but the informant left before I was able to get his details."

"This man is a potential witness and I would really like to trace him as he could hold vital information."

He is described as white, in his early 40s, and wore a green/brown long coat with a matching hood.

"If this was you, or you know who he is, then please contact me," the officer said. "Likewise, if you witnessed any suspicious activity in the area contact me on 101, quoting incident number 76 of February 24."

Police are also appealing for information following a dispute near a supermarket in Cannock.

The incident involved a man and a woman, both aged about 23, near Aldi in Walsall Road at about 8.50am on Sunday.

The woman is white, of slim build with shoulder length brown hair and wearing dark coloured clothing. The man was white, about 5ft 6in tall and of muscular build. He wore a white T-shirt and blue jeans. They were seen to leave in a small grey car.

Anyone with information is asked to ring DS Poultny on 101 quoting incident 184.

Vandals damage toilet

VANDALS have smashed a toilet block at a bus station, forcing it to close for a week.

Yobs wrecked the inside of the Universal Superloo at Rugeley Bus Station, pulling the toilet roll dispenser from the wall. Empty cans and bottles were left strewn across the floor also and the toilet bowl itself had been damaged.

The portable toilet had to be closed while the damage was fixed by contractors. Rugeley Town Council chairman John Rowley said: "I really don't know what else we can do to stop it from happening in the future."

Pensioner died after catalogue of errors

THE full and shocking case of a diabetic pensioner's death at Stafford Hospital have been laid bare at Stafford crown court.

The court heard Gillian Astbury's death was fuelled by systemic failings as a consequence of bosses in charge of an organisation without control.

The 66-year-old from Hednesford was first admitted on April 1, 2007 after breaking her arm and pelvis after suffering falls at Cannock Hospital and at home.

She died early on April 11 after lapsing into a fatal diabetic coma because two nurses failed to give her the required insulin injections.

The court heard a one-off oversight did not lead to her death but a series of repeated failures to share information, hold proper staff hand-overs and keep records over eight nurse shifts and up to 11 drug rounds.

Pursuit

Prosecuting Mr Bernard Thorogood said there were failings in the A&E department, on ward 7 and in the Acute Medical Unit.

The court heard how cuts to staffing levels while the hospital was in pursuit of Foundation Trust status had, at time, left one senior nurse in charge of 84 beds.

"How far up does culpability go? It goes right up and is found in the body of the board itself," he said.

Shock failings show only four pages of a 36-page care document critical for recording all patient information within the first 72 hours of admission had been filled in.

Mr Astbury's fluid monitoring chart was incomplete and records on food intake were contradictory. Her patient number was wrongly written, forms were not signed by senior staff, and the ambulance crews' record which contained important personal information was never attached to the patient's medical notes.

The blood glucose monitoring chart nurses were meant to fill in four times a day was only partly completed - sometimes not at all.

Mr Thorogood added: "All clinical staff were working in the context of a poorly-led and poorly-run system with no effective management, oversight or control."

Defending the trust, Mr Stephen Climie apologised to Mrs Astbury's family and her partner and carer Ron Street. He said the trust, which faces a hefty fine, had 'learnt its lessons'.

Mr Justice Haddon-Cave will deliver his sentence at a later date.

Hospitals may be forced to pay for deaths

NEW Cross Hospital and the University Hospital of North Staffordshire could be forced to pay unlimited fines for 'wholly avoidable' deaths at Stafford Hospital when they take over services.

Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust, which is set to be dissolved, has admitted 'widespread failings' which led to the death of 66-year-old Gillian Astbury in April 2007 after nurses failed to give her insulin.

Nurses were 'set up to fail' as a result of 'no effective management oversight and control,' Stafford Crown Court heard last week.

The troubled trust is facing two other prosecutions over deaths at the Weston Road hospital but is likely not to be in existence if and when the cases come to court.

Prosecutor Mr Bernard Thorogood indicated that any fines payable after the trust was dissolved would be the responsibility of whoever takes over its services. "If it does happen the responsibility of the liability of the defendant will migrate to any new trusts that take the hospitals of this trust," he said.

Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust will be liable to pay the fine until it is full dissolution, which is not likely to happen until the autumn.

Hundreds turn out for apprentice open day

Young people see what is on offer at the open day at Finning which has 300 apprenticeships on offer

HUNDREDS of young people attended an open day at an industrial equipment firm hoping to land one of 30 apprenticeships on offer.

Bosses at Finning in Cannock said the event, which attracted around 250 people, was a massive success.

Those who turned up were given the opportunity to experience what life is like as a Finning apprentice.

They were also given a guided tour of the company's academy, demonstrations of simulators and training equipment and a tour of the main workshop, as well as an opportunity to talk to the company's current apprentices.

Enthusiasm

Stuart Chapman, Finning's HR director, said: "We really believe that one of the best ways of achieving a career in engineering is through apprenticeships."

"Just talking to our current trainees reveals the real enthusiasm that there is for our scheme and this is backed up by the sheer amount of interest that we have had."

The open day was held last Thursday, February 20.

Finning is the main UK dealer for the Caterpillar equipment range.

Response to libraries overhaul plan hailed

MORE than 1,000 people have spoken out about an overhaul of library services planned by Staffordshire County Council which could see sites merged.

The council says it is carrying out a review because there needs to be a greater focus on technology and providing services online. It is yet to reveal exactly what the changes could involve but one option is the 'co-location of services.'

The county council currently has 43 building-based libraries. Figures revealed there had been a 12 per cent decline in the number of library users over the past three years.

Excellent

Libraries chief Councillor Mike Lawrence said he was pleased at the number of people who had so far taken part in a consultation that is being held before final plans are drawn up.

He said: "We've had an excellent response so far."

"We need people's help to adapt the service so that it meets the needs of our communities and is sustainable."

"Libraries have changed enormously in recent years to keep pace with new technology and how the internet

by Adam Burling

has transformed the way people read books and magazines, access information, and even socialise.

"It's also essential that we are spending every penny of taxpayers' money as well as we can, on the things that people want and need."

Fewer books are being borrowed and the buildings now offer more computer access and digital services such as e-books, alongside community space for meetings and exhibitions.

Visit www.staffordshire.gov.uk/connecteditlibraries, or fill in a leaflet available at any Staffordshire Library. People can also email responses to four questions to connecteditlibraries@staffordshire.gov.uk

EATING OUT

Bank on bar for top food and ambience

ARGUABLY the most relaxed venue in Cannock, the bank bar in Wolverhampton Road remains a popular draw for punters.

It was the first venue to introduce a smoking ban before it became legislation, the decor has always had a sophisticated look and the pleasantness of the staff only adds to the ambience.

Its existing lunchtime menu has always served the bar well and many night-time drinkers see it as their favourite haunt. Music fans can also enjoy live entertainment in the bar's vault.

Boss Alastair Payne runs a welcoming bar, but is never afraid to ring the changes. His latest move is to introduce a new evening menu, set to be officially launched tomorrow (Friday).

Enjoy

An area has even been refurbished to provide a more fitting space for diners.

While not short of lunchtime diners, or indeed evening drinkers, Alastair would like to marry the two, alleviating the need for customers to go elsewhere and allowing them to enjoy the rest of the night at the bar.

It looks set to be a winning combination. My partner and I were among the invited guests at the menu's launch and, the one thing you can guarantee at the bank is that head chef Alastair Campbell is going to serve up a treat.

The beauty of eating at the bank is that you can be left to do so in peace. Social interaction is great, but the owner understands there is a time and a place for such pleasantries. There's always plenty of time to chat once the dining - itself a reason to visit the bar - is out of the way.

Starters range from sweet potato and chilli soup, cod and roasted red pepper fishcakes and battered barbecue chicken goujons. For vegetarians, there is halloumi served with avocado and rocket. I opted for the fishcakes. Delicious, but just shaded for me by the other's halves goujons.

For mains, I chose tomato penne pasta with bacon, which can be swapped with mushrooms to make it vegetarian. The better half went for the barbecue chicken melt, accompanied by bacon, cheddar cheese and barbecue sauce. Both were cooked from fresh and served to perfection. Other options are gammon, egg and chips, sirloin steak and a classic bank burger, while there is also a choice of desserts. Two courses costs £11.95 and three £14.95, so there are no hidden extras and diners know exactly what they get for their money. The evening menu will be served on Fridays and Saturdays. Art of coping with breakdown to go on show

Andrew Williams of Cannock, at work on one of his book illustration frames

AN author and illustrator who uses his skills as a therapy, is to stage an exhibition of the work that proved to be his 'lifeline' at Cannock library.

Andrew Williams, who has written and illustrated a children's book - Animals of Eden - due to be published next month, said the display was to prove there is life beyond the misery of breakdown.

The book, with some 30 brightly drawn frames, is a moral tale about bullying in paradise.

"The central characters are a dinosaur, pig and monkey. Obviously the narrative is picture driven and is aimed at those who are aged three to nine.

"The story introduces a simple anti-heroes plot and outlines the need for forgiveness as we go through life with people who have different values to our own. The book - a two-year project - is a visually stimulating experience and will work well with a story-teller or as a self-read," said Andrew of Avalon House, Horton Close, Cannock.

Andrew was taken ill during his second year at Wolverhampton University while studying animation and illustration. Despite missing some of his course in the following two years, he went on to complete his BA.

"I am the classic one in four, who through pressures and other reasons not so easily defined, suffered mental illness at university. I wanted to prove there is a way back to health and for me the book project has been my lifeline.

"Staging the exhibition is my way of trying to inspire others who feel there is no hope. I owe so much to the Rethink Mental Illness charity for their support in helping to make this happen," said Andrew.

Commissions

The exhibition at the town's main library in Manor Avenue will run throughout the month of March and will feature the tablet and pen work for the book and Andrew's commissions using other mediums.

A number of canvases will include imagery of the Beatles, his favourite retro music band.

Self-employed artist Andrew aims to be on site some days to chat with those interested in his work and recovery journey.

Bag a bargain for children's charity

Cuttlestones auctioneer Ben Gamble with some of the designer items going under the hammer DEDICATED followers of fashion can 'bag' designer gear and help charity at the same time.

A host of trendy lots including a Hugo Boss laptop bag, Marc Jacobs handbag, Gucci purse set, D&G silk cardigan and a Louis Vuitton monogram scarf have been consigned to the auction house by Cannock-based charity the Newlife Foundation, which supports children with life-limiting conditions and their families.

They will be going under the hammer at the Cuttlestones' Penkridge saleroom. It is being handled by auc-tioniers Cuttlestones, who also have salerooms in Wolverhampton.

The firm's managing director and head auctioneer Ben Gamble said: "It's fantastic to be able to support the Newlife Foundation and help them to achieve the very best prices for these luxury items."

Vintage

"A huge number of high street and designer stores support the charity by donating new items that they are no longer selling in their stores."

"And we felt that this selection would be best placed in our fine art auction due to the recent success we have experienced in the sale of vintage and quality clothing," he added.

Mr Gamble said all the profits from the sale would go directly to the charity.

The designer lots are set to come under the hammer at Cuttlestones' auction on Friday, March 14.

The full catalogue will be available online at www.cuttlestones.co.uk from Friday, March 7 and viewing will take place from 10am to 7pm on March 13, as well as on the morning of the sale.

Commission, telephone and live online bidding is available via www.the-saleroom.com

REVIEWS

Charming with a touch of common

Some Girl I Used To Know, Grand STAR of stage and screen, cheeky Essex chick Denise Van Outen, has unique appeal – guys fancy her and girls relate to her, so it is no surprise that her one woman show, Some Girl I Used to Know, has received rave reviews and standing ovations on its 2014 tour so far.

And last week it was our turn to enjoy her very special brand of charm with just a touch of common, as she opened at the Wolverhampton Grand Theatre for a three-night run which ended on Saturday.

Don't get me wrong, Tell Me on a Sunday it ain't, but this snapshot into the life of a successful business woman, Stephanie, who takes a nostalgic and amusing, but also often painful trip down memory lane, is just as entertaining in its own way.

It follows high-flying wife and career girl Stephanie Canworth on a musical journey down memory lane.

Stephanie has it all – a successful career, supportive husband and she's a media darling. But a Facebook poke from a former love and the memories come flooding back.

It's a mixture of girly gags, slightly smutty, but very real comedy and life experiences, with hits of the 80s and 90s woven into the story for good measure.

It was a must see for Denise devotees and those who simply want to sit back, relax and be entertained.

ALISON NORTON

Rioja and rhumba

Gipsy Kings, Civic Hall
THE relentless propulsion of six acoustic guitars and the passionate full-throated vocals of Nicolas Reyes brought the warmth of the Mediterranean to a cold night in Wolverhampton when The Gipsy Kings performed at the Civic Hall.

The combination of their irresistible 'rumba flamenca' style and possibly a few glasses of Rioja meant a troupe of middle-aged ladies were up and dancing in the aisles by the third number as the portly band of French-Spanish gipsy musicians hit their stride.

Dialogue with the audience was restricted to a gracias, merci and the occasional thank you, until Nicolas Reyes told us he loved us.

The Grammy-award winners saved the best known numbers for last but Bamboleo instead of being greeted by dancing was met by an audience more intent on recording the finale on their camera phones.

But no one could resist joining in with the encore, Volare.

LEON BURAKOWSKI

Mischiefous – Jamie Bond as The Joker in Card Game

The joker's wild as ballet returns

Birmingham Royal Ballet, Hippodrome

DAVID Bintley's company kicked off their first home season of 2014 with a triple bill. Card Game, choreography by John Cranko to music by Stravinsky, was a ballet in three deals with Jamie Bond as the mischievous Joker in the pack.

Hollywood actress Betty Grable had the million dollar legs but that should apply to Celine Gittens. The Trinidad-born ballerina high-kicked to heaven with her perfect pins in the jazzy Slaughter on Tenth Avenue, by George Balanchine to music by Richard Rodgers. She was perfectly matched with Tyrone Singleton's muscular Hooper in this blend of ballet and tap.

Finally came the amusing and colourful Elite Syncopations, choreographed by Kenneth MacMillan to ragtime music. The comic Alaskan Rag, featuring Yvette Knight and James Barton, was a real audience-pleaser. This week BRB present The Prince of the Pagodas.
LEON BURAKOWSKI

Masters of their crafts

McCusker, McGoldrick & Doyle, MAC Birmingham
HAVE you heard the one about the Scotsman, the Englishman and the Irishman... they got together and created some glorious Celtic folk music.

Never ones to short change, John McCusker mostly on fiddle, Michael McGoldrick on flute, whistle and uilleann pipes and John Doyle on a range of guitars and vocals opened with an instrumental which was almost 10 minutes long.

Individually the three musicians, who are regulars with the Transatlantic Sessions, are masters of their craft but together they produce a blend of sound which is magical, evocative and encompasses everything which is good with folk music.

With a mixture of reels, jigs and sea shanties they showed their versatility and skills with tracks such as Leaving Uist, Rory Campbell's Song, Billy's Reel and the poignant SS Arabic about one of Doyle's ancestors who was inadvertently caught up in a U-Boat attack during World War One.

Norton Canes

Norton Canes is a village and civil parish on the southern edge of Cannock Chase District. It is situated three miles out of the centre of Cannock. At the 2001 census it had a population of 6,394 and an area of 3,746 acres of which 86 per cent is green open space.

The Cannock Chase Coalfield once had 45 collieries within two miles of Norton Canes, employing more than 5,800 men, as well as two large surface mines. The last pit in the area closed in 1993. Grove Pit was one of these pits, and on October 1, 1930 was the scene of a major tragedy when 14 miners were killed in an explosion.

Another local colliery was owned by the Jerome family, hence Jerome Road now stands on the site of the pit. This was the family of the author Jerome K. Jerome. Norton Canes borders Chasewater - a collection of man-made lakes formed through old mining pits and a reservoir that feeds the canal system of West Midlands. Chasewater is a popular leisure destination offering facilities for water-skiing and yachting, mountain biking, jogging, walking and bird watching.

Norton Canes straddles the UK's first and only Toll Motorway, the M6 Toll which has its northern Toll Plaza and Norton Canes Services is the only services for that motorway.

Last year saw the launch of the new revamped skatepark in the village. The project was led by the parish council and funded by a grant from Veolia Environmental Trust and supported by Cannock Chase District Council.

Norton Canes holds the claim to fame of being home to Europe's first drive-through chemist. This is now closed as the chemist has moved into the local health centre located in Brownhills Road. Norton Canes in home to two primary schools; Jerome Primary School and Norton Canes Primary. The Jerome Primary School was named to reflect the association with the Jerome family who owned the pit.

There is also a high school, in Burntwood Road, a specialist maths and computing college, with 467 students on roll. The school was recently named as the 16th most improved school nationally and its academic achievement has increased for the last nine consecutive years. One of its students, Brad Robins, was presented with youth endeavour award by parish council chairman John Bernard for his efforts to support the PTA at Jerome. He is a youth advocate, supporting the village library and organizes events for young people there.

Norton Canes is also home to numerous business parks, which brings a large variety of businesses from industrial to commercial to the area.

Phoneline

TELECOMMUNICATIONS firm Phoneline is a well established business headed up by managing director Simon Warner. Simon has a wealth of expertise in the mobile communications arena and has surrounded himself with an elite team, based in Rugeley which is centrally located and ideal to service business and business clients.

-All of our dealings are customer focused at all times - we pride ourselves on customer service," says Simon.

He adds Phoneline, in Horse Fair, has moved with the times since it launched more than 15 years ago and has developed the business model to stay in operation. The company repairs at least 20 iPhone screens each week along with software upgrades and repairs, as phones are now more like computers than the old handsets it used to sell when the shop opened back in 1998.

Phoneline still offers bespoke contracts catered for all local businesses as well as catering for the general public's needs in contract phones, sim only deals and also refurbished handsets.

The shop sells cases, chargers, Bluetooth, headphones, screen protectors, as well as many other products, while iPhone and iPad screens, power faults, ear piece issues, microphone problems, water damaged devices can all be repaired.

Phoneline offers a same day service on all repairs subject to parts being available or in stock.

Staff welcome all types of enquiry. Call Phoneline on 01889 585000 or visit www.getmeaphone.co.uk for more details.

RUGELEY FIREPLACES

It is nice to hear of one success story these days right on our doorstep. Rugeley Fireplaces opened at 41 Albion Street, Rugeley in February 1989 with Kath still working as part of the team today. Emma and Darren Chadbourne have ensured the fireplace and stove showroom has moved with the times:

Made to measure modern timber, marble and stone fireplaces have replaced the now old fashioned hand built brick fireplaces while high efficiency gas and wood fires and stoves have steadily grown in popularity; taking over from traditional gas and open coal fires.

Rugeley fireplaces boast a huge range of spares for all manner of gas, solid fuel, stoves and boiler fires. They pride themselves on being the only place for miles where spares are kept in stock.

Rugeley Fireplaces have taken years to assemble a terrific network of craftsmen from Stone/ Marble/ Timber cabinet makers to Gas Safe and HETAS installers even Chimney sweeps. This could be the reason about 70% of their business comes from recommendations and/or repeat custom.

Here's just one testimonial:

"Dear Emma I would like to thank you for the excellent service you have provided from choosing the right stove, to ensuring that I had a trouble free TOP QUALITY installation. I am delighted with the result. You should be very proud of your business and the service you provide. In particular your kind attitude towards customer service. Thank you SO much! Kind regards, Margaret" October 2013.

Rugeley Fireplaces do more than just sell fires... They plan Flues for customers who want a stove but have no chimney... design wood and coal central heating solutions including linking up an existing boiler to a new stove? Emma is often called upon to redesign a fireplace to meet her customers specific requirements.

So if you are thinking of changing your fireplace make sure you visit Rugeley Fireplaces. Peace of mind and great choice and advice is available free from your local experts.

Rugeley Fireplaces can be found (parking at Service Area 10 car park) 41 Albion Street, Rugeley WS15 2BY

STIG TATTOO

Stig Tattoo opened in late 2012 by tattoo artist Carl Walker (Stig) with the intention of creating a hygienic and friendly Tattoo Shop that prides itself on good customer care and a very high standard of work.

and Kev Denny to the team and the shop has grown from strength to strength.

The shop is located on Market Street which is the busy high street in the centre of Hednesford. The majority of tattoos done in the shop are custom designed to meet the client's specifications tastes and needs.

Being the first shop in the area to offer tattoo removal our laser technician Dan also helped the local authority set a president in the field, so rest assure you are in the best possible hands. And with prices starting from just £10 per session, it's not as costly as you may have thought

DAVID YARNOLD

Extending your house could be one of the most important events in your life so you need to ensure that the process goes as smoothly as possible.

So, why choose Architectural Services?

David Yarnall is a Member of the Chartered Institute of Architectural Technologists and hence you can be sure that you're dealing with someone who knows how to best formulate and present your ideas. For an agreed fee, excluding council charges, the service offered is as follows:-

An initial discussion at your property regarding your requirements and once established, a fee is agreed with you and confirmed in writing. A property survey is carried out and drawings prepared for your approval.

Once the design is finalised, the relevant application is submitted to the council on your behalf and queries dealt with should they arise.

What's On!

Church and science conflict resonates

THE rational versus the superstitious, science versus the church, a conflict down the ages that still resonates today is the subject of Birmingham Rep artistic director's new staging of A Life Of Galileo.

This is a rapid revival of her own acclaimed production, translated by Mark Ravenhill from the work by Marxist German playwright Bertolt Brecht. It won praise when staged by the Royal Shakespeare Company at Stratford and will again feature Ian McDiarmid in the title role.

It looks at the pioneering Italian scientist's clash with the Roman Catholic Church in the early 17th Century over his assertion that the Earth orbits the Sun.

Inspiration The play, staged at The Rep from tomorrow night to March 8, is presented as part of a Brecht season at the Centenary Square venue.

The anarchic world of children's TV in the past (think Tiswas and Going Live) is the inspiration for Told By An Idiot's Never Try This At Home at The Rep's Studio from tonight to March 15. At the theatre's third space, The Door, London Soho Theatre's darkly comic romance Blink, by Phil Porter, is being staged from Monday to Wednesday.

Before Fame The Musical leaps onto the stage, Wolverhampton Grand hosts English Touring Theatre's passionate Eternal Love, the story of the 12th century romance between philosopher and student, Abelard and Heloise, through to Saturday. The lovers are played by real-life couple David Sturzak and Jo Herbert.

Rod Stewart musical Tonight's The Night is at the New Alexandra Theatre until Saturday. The Birmingham venue then hosts 1700s Scottish adventure Kidnapped on Monday night and Tuesday afternoon.

Fame, they're gonna make it together

A scene from the new version of Fame! The Musical, being staged in Wolverhampton LEGWARMERS, star jumps and poignant moments at the piano – it can only mean Fame.

Back in 1980 British director Alan Parker's movie about the tribulations and triumphs of young hopeful students at New York High School of Performing Arts was a surprise hit, spawning a hit TV series and a 2009 movie remake.

Musical

It also led to Fame! The Musical, an international theatre hit which had a West End run and toured the UK, featuring the famous title song and such numbers as Hard Work, Let's Play A Love Scene and Think Of Meryl Streep.

The latest UK touring revival brings matters up to date by setting the story in 2014 when it arrives at Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre on Monday for a six-day run – so expect lots of dynamic dancing but fewer dodgy perms.

The Voice UK

BBC1, 7pm
The blind auditions are complete and the coaches have chosen 12 acts each. Now begins the process of whittling them down by half for the live shows – and that means the return of the battle rounds. Emma Willis and Marvin Humes host as the coaches are joined by four advisers – Scissor Sisters frontman Jake Shears, singer Katy B, award-winning rapper Tinie Tempah and Black Eyed Peas founder Dante Santiago – who give the acts the benefit of their experience, before pitting them against each other in head-to-head musical performances.

Dragons' Den

BBC2, 9pm
It's always fun to play along while watching telly, especially if you're playing "guess Peter Jones' next pun" on Dragons' Den. Here, he and fellow Dragons Duncan Bannatyne, Deborah Meaden, Kelly Hoppen and Piers Linney meet two women with an alpaca-based knitwear company, but will Peter accuse them of 'spinning a yarn', or ask them to get down to the 'knitty gritty' of their proposal? Among the other would-be entrepreneurs is the director of a London-based design company with a new take on the sticky note.

Romantic comedy, starring Sandra Bullock and Ryan Reynolds. (2009)

Pick of the Week

Everyday menus for special occasions

Mary Berry may be 78, an age when most people are concentrating on relaxing rather than reaching the peak of their career, but she's bigger and more popular than ever.

And it's all down to one little programme – The Great British Bake Off.

Nobody could have foreseen what a phenomenon that show would end up being, and how it would suddenly turn Mary into a national treasure.

Okay, so long-standing foodies were already aware of her thanks to her recipe books and earlier TV experiences, but none of those brought her the same kind of exposure as the Bake Off did.

She'll be back for a new run of that later in the year when the show moves to BBC1, but for now, she's on BBC2 again, this time presenting six-part series, in which she offers tips for nervous cooks from her own kitchen.

Mary hopes to inspire people to prepare meals for both everyday and special occasions, including meals that will appeal to every member of the family, young and old.

As ever, Mary delivers her advice in her firm but fair, gentle yet easy-to-understand way – and she likes to keep it straightforward, too.

"First of all, you have to decide what you're going to do," she says when asked for advice on what to cook for a dinner party.

"Go simple and don't try something you haven't done before. It's a good idea to have the first course and the pud chilled, and then you can concentrate on the main meal.

"I don't want anything last-minute because anything can happen. I do try to plan, because I want to be with my guests. It's all about them, and they don't want to see you stressed.

And if you're in the kitchen cooking with them, they can watch you, and people like that."

Unlike some TV chefs, she doesn't like to bombard viewers with ingredients they may never have heard of: "It's very important that the recipes work and contain ingredients that everybody can buy from their local supermarkets." Amen to that!

She kicks off the series by offering ideas for a traditional tea party. You'll certainly never look at sandwiches in the same way again, and will be rushing out to buy the ingredients to make Mary's mouth-watering bite-sized scones too.

Her granddaughters also make a guest appearance while helping her make orange butterfly cakes.

As for Mary's dream guests, who would she choose? Alongside her beloved family, she has a very special couple in mind.

"I would like to have the Duke and Duchess and Cambridge," she smiles. "I did actually meet them while working with the charity Child Bereavement UK. It would be lovely to cook for them because one day he's going to be the king of England.

"I know what they like, because they use my cookery books. I'd have to do a pudding with brandy for Katherine and William, I think, would like tallagio chicken. They are in very good shape so I wouldn't want to go too overboard!"

Mary Berry Cooks, Monday, BBC2, 8.30pm

Best of the Rest

Monday

I Never Knew That About Britain, ITV, 8pm

Author Christopher Winn loves trivia, which is why he came up with the idea for a book called I Never Knew That About England, and when it became a hit, followed it with tomes about Ireland, Scotland and Wales. Each edition featured little-known facts about each country, and went on to be the inspiration for this new, eight-part series. Paul Martin, Suzannah Lipscomb and Steve Mould investigate weird and wonderful places and people from the past, and begin with remarkable tales involving an unsung hero with connections to the Spitfire and, bizarrely, the folding buggy, the Welsh women who battled Napoleon and the chap whose experiments helped the development of pain relief.

Silk

BBC1, 9pm

Writer Peter Moffat's idea for this series was to capture the 'extreme pressure, the hard choices, the ethical dilemmas, of life as a barrister, and the latest offering does that rather well. Martha (Maxine Peake) is assigned to defend a footballer accused of a pitch assault on another player. Considering the incident had thousands of witnesses, it seems she's finally bitten off more than she can chew. It doesn't help that her client is reluctant to cooperate and help his defence, so she must get him on side to discover a secret he's determined to keep hidden from the football world. Also this week, chambers are shocked by a resignation and Billy (Neil Stuke) takes steps to ensure Shoe Lane's future.

Tuesday

Death in Paradise, BBC1, 9pm

Emma Redding is a retired lifesaver who was due to turn up at a party, but when she doesn't show or answer her phone, it sets alarm bells ringing. Her door is forced open and she's found dead on her bed with an empty packet of sleeping pills at her side. Two key questions dominate the case: how did the alleged killer get out of her locked room, and could one of Emma's so-called friends be the prime suspect?

Wednesday

Left for Dead by the Yorkshire Ripper, Channel 5, 8pm

Be warned: this won't make for easy viewing. However, if anyone's happy putting a challenging and thought-provoking documentary about serial killers out there under an eye-catching title, it's Channel 5. This particularly harrowing film – shown, surprisingly, before the watershed – focuses on one of Britain's most notorious murderers, Peter Sutcliffe, or the Yorkshire Ripper. Over the course of his five-year reign of terror, he killed 13 women and attempted to murder eight more, and we hear from some of those survivors, who recount Sutcliffe's attacks blow-by-blow. They include Marilyn Moore, who has never told her story before on television, and Tracy Browne, who describes how, when she was a 14-year-old schoolgirl, she was attacked as she walked home.

Line of Duty

BBC2, 9pm

Thanks to its authentic police procedural action, the first series of this tense drama is one of the more compelling examples of its genre we have seen in a long while. This series has been progressing at a real pace, and tonight sees Arnot uncover evidence that a tracker had been planted on one of the vehicles in the police convoy which was ambushed. Sole survivor Lindsay Denton, meanwhile, implies that Deputy Chief Constable Dryden was embroiled in a wider conspiracy – and when a series of video recordings made by the witness while in protective custody are discovered, it's not long before the AC-12 officers begin to realise she's right – but it may be too late as she's in danger.

Thursday

Coronation Street: A Moving Story, ITV, 9pm

For more than half a century, Coronation Street has captured the hearts of the nation from the same location in Manchester. However, all that has changed recently. During the past two years a new set has been built to house the Rovers Return, Dev's shop,

Line of Duty, Wednesday, BBC2, 9pm

Underworld, and all those beloved homes. Of course for many long-term residents of the Street it's been an emotional upheaval moving to a different set. Here, cameras cover the final week of filming in December 2013 at Granada Studios, and document the cast and crew's move two miles away to MediaCity UK at Salford Quays.

DIY SOS: The Big Build

BBC1, 9pm

BBC golden boy Nick Knowles is a busy man at the moment – if he's not doing on his pregnant wife ahead the birth of their baby boy in the summer, he can usually be found doling out good news in various National Lottery game shows of a Saturday evening. He's going to meet himself coming backwards one of these days, but no matter how hectic his schedule gets, he'll always have time for DIY SOS. This week, he and the team are coming to the aid of Paul Makings, whose wife died shortly after she gave birth to their sixth child.

Friday

Gogglebox, Channel 4, 9pm

Okay, watching people watching telly really shouldn't be so addictive. But it is, thanks to this Big Brother-style series which has proved a hit with the nation. Whatever the reason for its likeability, bosses have thought it popular enough to bring it back for a third series, and in a Friday night primetime slot nonetheless. Narrated by Caroline Aherne, the series will feature the opinionated British households that have become so well-recognised, as well as some new faces.

WHY USE C RESIDENTIAL TO SELL YOUR HOME ?

Obviously every penny counts and moving home is expensive therefore it is not wise to always look at who is the cheapest because many agents have hidden costs.

Before you make your final decision we have set out below some of the services offered by C residential and suggest that if you are looking at instructing another agent that you ask them if they offer the same.

Our Staff

Behind every SOLD board there is a hard working Sales Team but what makes us better is that our standards are high. We have entered (and won) The Estate Agents of the Year Awards held annually for a record 9 times. We pride ourselves on our commitment to achieve the very best price for our Vendor clients. We promise to give honest and realistic valuation prices which will be based on various influences including market trends and demands to name but two.

Accompanied Viewings

As we have 4 dedicated members of the Sales Team we accompany 95% of our viewings. As part of our service all our houses that are empty will be accompanied by a member of staff anyway. Something to ask yourself is this "if a plumber is coming to fit a bathroom suite in your home he doesn't say you fit the sink and I will fit the toilet - it is the complete job". That is how we view selling houses.

Our job is to 'sell' the property not just hand out pieces of paper in the hope that maybe someone will buy it. The 'selling' part is done on the viewing !

Experience

We are the only office in Rugeley that is a Member Office of the National Association of Estate Agents (NAEA) the only recognised professional organisation for Estate Agents. All of our staff receives full thorough training and continuous assessment to ensure they stay ahead of the game.

Our Office

We have recently moved to the prestigious Globe House in the heart of the town. It is without doubt the most iconic building in the town centre and with the latest LED window displays we feature an impressive 96 properties to 3 sides of the building, 24 hours a day.

It is a well-known fact that some properties are sold by people looking in an Estate Agents window, can you afford to not have your property displayed this way? You cannot just rely on the internet and newspapers people like to visit and browse

Drivetime

Customer wishes prioritised

By Anthony Martyn

The new 2014 Toyota Yaris and Yaris Hybrid have new grade line-ups that prioritise the features today's customers value most.

There is an added incentive for the 1.4 D-4D diesel Yaris, which now dips below the 100g/km CO₂ threshold to qualify for a zero annual road tax (Vehicle Excise Duty) bill.

Yaris, with prices starting from £10,895, adopts a new four-grade structure for 2014: Active, Icon, Icon Plus and Trend. Active and Icon replace the previous T2 and TR designations, while Icon Plus offers a high-value specification and extra styling elements. Trend gains additional equipment features and becomes the new top-of-the-range model.

Icon Plus distinguishes itself with its dedicated Selena 10-spoke, 15-inch alloy wheels, LED rear light clusters and front fog lights. Customers who choose the new Glacier Pearl paint finish also gain a bright chrome tailgate trim. High quality equipment features for safer, easier and more comfortable driving include automatic headlights and windscreen wipers, power windows front and rear, automatic climate control and, where a manual transmission is fitted, a higher-set centre console design.

The on-going cost of car ownership is a significant consideration for customers and Toyota has taken steps to make its 1.4 D-4D diesel-powered Yaris even more wallet-friendly. Engineering revisions have improved the unit's efficiency and brought its official CO₂ emissions figure down from 104g/km to 99g/km.

As a result, the 2014 Yaris 1.4

D-4D Icon Plus model is in Band A for road tax (Vehicle Excise Duty), with no annual charge. Less money will be spent on filling up as well, as combined cycle economy has improved from 72.4mpg to 74.3mpg.

It's simple for owners to upgrade the appearance and equipment specification of their new Yaris with cost-effective option packs for the Icon Plus and Trend models.

A Smart Pack (£300) makes life easier with keyless entry and push-button start, while the Appearance Pack (£750, Icon Plus only) adds a matt black C-pillar decal to create a "floating roof" effect, plus dark-tinted rear privacy glass and a fixed panoramic roof.

The Protection Pack (£700) covers all bases to guard against the rough and tumble of driving in town and country, providing front and rear parking sensors, floor mats, mud flaps, black side mouldings and boot liner and a rear bumper protection plate.

Stand-out features are bundled together in the Style Pack (£500), including LED daytime running lights, aluminium scuff plates and chrome trim on the tailgate and exhaust pipe.

In addition, Icon, Icon Plus and Trend versions of the 2014 Yaris can be upgraded with Toyota's Touch & Go multimedia system (£650), providing satellite navigation, Google Local Search connection and access to a range of useful, downloadable applications.

The 2014 Yaris Hybrid follows the pattern set by its sister model in adopting a new grade structure, albeit with different equipment specifications.

Active and Icon Plus grades replace the previous T3 and T4, with Trend taking on the role of flagship in place of the T Spirit. Across the board the standard features have been refreshed to reaffirm Yaris Hybrid's status as an advanced, innovative competitor in the supermini market.

Toyota made good use of customer feedback to determine the new specification for the Yaris Hybrid Trend, including the introduction of the C-pillar decal to create the floating roof look. Other styling elements include a rear spoiler, 16-inch Trend alloys and part-leather seat upholstery, while the equipment manifest includes auto headlights and wipers, an auto-dimming rear-view mirror, power windows all-round and keyless entry with push-button start. Prices start at £15,495.

Vauxhall's Astra GTC is now a bigger performer

A new Astra GTC is now available with a powerful new 1.6-litre direct injection petrol engine, priced from just £20,995 on-the-road.

First seen in the Cascada convertible, and packing 200PS and 300Nm of torque, the all-new, four cylinder unit allows the GTC to achieve a top speed of 143mph and 0-60mph time in 7.3 seconds, making it the fastest non-VXR model in the Astra range.

Peak power and torque are increased by up to 30 per cent over the previous 1.6-litre turbo model, yet fuel consumption of 51mpg combined and emissions of 154g/km have meant a 13 per cent improvement in efficiency.

The new engine brings sector-leading refinement to the Astra GTC range. It is the only unit in its class to feature twin balancer shafts for smooth running, while a host of sound engineering measures have been made for low noise, vibration and harshness (NVH).

Priced from £855, Vauxhall has also introduced the innovative IntelliLink infotainment system to the Astra GTC range. Intuitive and user-friendly, the system features satellite navigation, voice control, Bluetooth phone and audio connectivity, picture viewer and Gracenote album art, all via its high-resolution 7in touch-screen display.

In addition, the top-of-the-range Navi 950 IntelliLink contains Europe-wide street level mapping with updates easily downloadable via USB. Drivers can also have incoming text messages read out to them, as well as integrating their smartphones' own voice recognition functions.

"We've strengthened our Astra GTC offering with a strong and powerful 1.6-litre petrol engine and the cutting-edge IntelliLink infotainment system," said Stuart Harris, Vauxhall's head of carline brand.

"Vauxhall is really throwing down the gauntlet to UK coupe sector rivals with these enhancements to our Astra GTC range."

Astra GTCs with the new engine and IntelliLink are available to order now with first deliveries expected in the spring.

Lifetime

With the Astra GTC and all models in its passenger car range, Vauxhall gives peace of mind for the life of the vehicle via its industry-leading Lifetime Warranty. Available to the first owner, the warranty is valid for the lifetime of the vehicle up to a maximum of 100,000 miles.

Vauxhall is also making the top-selling Astra available with a super-smooth new generation 1.6 CDTi engine, Vauxhall's cleanest-ever mid-size diesel.

Previously only available on the Zafira Tourer and the Meriva, the new 1.6 CDTi engine is now set to enhance the Astra's appeal as Vauxhall continues to significantly refresh its powertrain offer.

The much-lauded new engine is available in two power outputs: 110PS and 136PS, in both hatchback and Sports Tourer body styles. The 110PS version achieves 76.3mpg combined with CO2 emission of just 97g/km, and 72.4mpg combined and 104g/km in 136PS guise.

Quiet and refined, the new 1.6 CDTi is one of the best engines in its class for noise and vibration thanks to an efficient combustion process with multiple injection, re-designed components and the use of acoustic covers.

Already Euro 6-compliant, the engine is best-in-class in noise and vibration generation.

Not only is the new 1.6 CDTi super-refined, it's also clean and powerful, too. A high-pressure common rail injection system and lean NOx trap exhaust-after treatment (LNT) improve efficiency, while a variable turbine turbocharger help make the new diesel a strong performer, too.

Raising bar with a more streamlined Sport model

Land Rover again raises the premium SUV bar with its latest offering – the V8 diesel-powered Range Rover Sport, writes Iain Dooley.

It can't have escaped you that Land Rover is doing rather well at the moment. Although only one half of the Jaguar-Land Rover equation, the 4x4 side of the business is selling the lion's share of the product.

The compact entry-level Evoque SUV burst onto the scene with all the fanfare and adoration of a major celebrity, and the trickle down effect – or should that be trickle up – had been felt across the firm's recently refreshed range.

One obvious recipient of the Evoque's magic has been the second generation Range Rover Sport. Visual similarities to the rock star of the range are no coincidence, while Land Rover's continued focus on reducing weight and boosting the level of technology in its cars continues with this more streamlined Sport.

Lighter, more economical and offering a more engaging on-road driving experience than the car it replaces, alongside Land Rover's long established off-road credentials, this new generation Sport also boasts more cabin space plus the option of a family-friendly third row of seats.

Just like the latest Range Rover, the Sport adopts its maker's next-gen Terrain Response system, which includes an auto mode clever enough to sense changes in terrain and change the engine, gearbox and suspension settings accordingly.

Although endowed with a perfectly good range of engines – six-cylinder diesel and eight-pot supercharged petrol units – the final piece of the performance jigsaw has now slotted into place.

Hot

If petrol isn't your thing but you still want to feel a shove in your back, there's now a hot diesel option in the form of a 4.4-litre V8, 334 horsepower lump. On paper, consumption and emission rise slightly as you'd expect, but the trade-off is a welcome increased turn of speed and more mid-range grunt.

With a predictable embarrassment of riches in both power and torque departments, this hot V8 diesel Sport is the consummate all-rounder. Ample low down torque is complemented by superb throttle sensitivity, making it ideal not just for inching over treacherous obstacles but also breezing past slower traffic on wide, sweeping A-roads.

Despite the potential for higher corner entry speeds when in diesel V8 guise, bodyroll is expertly kept in check and the Sport's ride is rarely compromised by its large but stylish alloy wheels. For a car destined to spend much of its time on the road, this should be music to any prospective owner's ears.

One thing that hasn't changed with the inclusion of a more powerful diesel motor, is the Sport's living quarters. The cabin remains a plush and inviting environment for occupants fore and aft, while the fascia's clean, simple lines put the cluttered driving environments of many rivals to shame.

In V8 diesel guise, the Range Rover Sport is as close to a no-compromise luxury SUV for the real world as you can get. It might look stately but its footprint remains a manageable one, while its expertly honed driving dynamics allow you to fully exploit the diesel V8's welcome extra power with supreme confidence.

TESTED

Model: Range Rover Sport SDV8 Autobiography Dynamic, from £81,550 on the road.

Swift made even better

The Special Edition Suzuki Swift SZ-L will go on sale tomorrow with a limited production run of 500 units.

The SZ-L is based on the 1.2-litre SZ3, but with additional equipment and features designed to enhance the sporty and fun to drive character of Swift.

All Swift SZ3 models already come well equipped with seven airbags, ESP, air conditioning, USB port and Bluetooth as standard.

SZ-L adds LED daytime running lights and cruise control from the recently updated Swift SZ4, along with extra equipment only available on SZ-L.

Exclusive equipment includes 2-tone metallic paintwork as standard; in either Boost Blue or Cosmic Black body colours with contrasting Cool White roof, rear spoiler and door mirrors.

Inside, silver stitching has been added to the steering wheel, gear gaiter and seats which also have a unique fabric design.

Crucially, the Swift SZ-L offers value for money in terms of running costs and purchase price; the 1.2-litre Dual VVT 94PS engine is one of the most powerful in its class, but offers low emissions of just 116g/km CO2 costing £30 in annual VED after the first year and returns a frugal 56.5mpg on the combined cycle.

SZ-L is in insurance group 11E, the same low group as the rest of the Swift range, making it the ideal purchase for younger Swift fans who want to own a more striking, design led car for an affordable cost.

Additionally, Suzuki Financial Services has included it in their popular PCP Driveplan campaign. SZ-L requires a deposit of just £999 followed by 42 monthly payments of £179 and an optional final balloon payment to keep the car.

Swift SZ-L is available on the recently extended VAT free promotion until the March 31 at £10,899 for three door models and £11,316 for five door models.

Fresh take on a popular model

The 2014 Geneva Motor Show will see the première of the new Citroën C1 – a fresh take on a popular model that has sold more than 760,000 examples worldwide since its launch in 2005.

The latest version of Citroën's city car is available in both three and five-door versions, as well as a new open-top body style called Aircscape.

A car with a strong personality, delivering an upbeat response to urban mobility requirements, the new Citroën C1 reflects the bold renewal of Citroën's C-line.

Citroën C1 features:

More design: With dynamic lines and a cheerful front-end gaze, characterised by its headlights, the C1 is an immediate head-turner.

Bi-tone versions and brightly coloured interiors underline the playful character and joie de vivre.

The new C1 is unmistakably a member of the new Citroën family

Greater comfort: For everyday driving. Agile and nippy, the new C1 marries compact exterior dimensions (just 3.46m), with easy handling and a turning circle of 4.80m.

Ride comfort is further improved, thanks to the C1's exceptional suspension comfort and impeccable road handling.

More useful technology: Including the 7" Touch Driver Interface and Mirror Screen technology, to copy and run smartphone apps from the touchscreen.

The new Citroën C1 can also be fitted with keyless entry and start, as well as a reversing camera and hill-start assist.

Optimised running costs: Weighing in at just 840kg and available with the new-generation petrol engines, the new Citroën C1 ranks among the best in class for fuel consumption, very important today.

Drivetime

Chevrolet Captiva is on route to a new era

Get behind the wheel of the Captiva and the raised driving position that SUV customers love so much is present and correct, writes Andy Enright.

The original Captiva featured Chevrolet's first diesel engine of the modern era and though that 150PS 2.0-litre unit was a decent first effort, what was just about acceptable back in 2007 was sounding distinctly rough three years on.

So its replacement in 2011 with the 2.2-litre engine still used here was timely. The entry-level front-driven Captiva has a 163PS version of this unit, but most AWD versions have the torquier 184PS derivative we tried, good for rest to 60 in 9.3 seconds on the way to 124mph in manual form or 9.8 seconds and 118mph if the slight clunkiness of said gearchange causes you instead to opt for the redesigned six-speed automatic transmission.

It's nice to have the extra power, but what we noticed more from this engine on the move is its greater refinement. You do feel the kerb weight of nearly two tonnes as you thread your way through tight bends, but it's nothing you couldn't quite happily live with should the need arise to hurry along your progress.

The on-demand all-wheel drive underpinnings aren't changed in any significant respect but then they didn't need to be.

It isn't a Land Rover-rivalling set-up, aimed more at muddy car parks than mountains, but useful approach and departure angles, Hill Start Assist to get you up steep slopes and Hill Descent Control to help you down them all mean that this car should be able to handle almost anything most owners will come across.

Enhanced

Since 2011, this car has made a more powerful visual statement, something which Chevrolet hopes to have further enhanced with a range of small but significant aesthetic tweaks.

So there are now LED tail lamps, angular chrome exhaust tips and a remodelled bumper.

Up front, there's a smarter lower bumper and a revised grille mesh as well as restyled fog lamps. Stylish 18in alloy wheels hope to further enhance the Captiva's road presence.

As for luggage space, it's predictably mean at 97-litres with all seven seats occupied, though the separately-opening rear window is a neat touch, meaning that you don't need to lug up the rear tailgate if all you want to do is to throw in a sportsbag.

If you do need space for bigger items, you'll find up to 769 litres of fresh air is on offer when, more typically, you're not using the occasional third row of seats. And the five-seat version that doesn't have them adds to that further with an additional storage compartment under the boot floor.

If you're able to fold the 50:50 split-folding second row of seating down as well to create a completely flat loadfloor, then you'll increase your luggage capacity to a useful 1,577 litres.

The Captiva's pricing, sitting in the £21,500 to £31,500 bracket, is a mark of the importer's confidence in what these days is certainly a much better product.

Whichever Captiva you choose – front or all-wheel drive, with 163PS or 184PS versions of the 2.2-litre diesel engine – you should find your car to be decently equipped.

There's now keyless start and entry, plus a dual-zone climate system, an ambient lighting package and heated rear seats provide extra comfort on select specifications.

Even the entry-level front-driven 163PS five-seat version comes complete with air conditioning, Bluetooth compatibility for your mobile phone, a six-speaker MP3 CD system with an AUX-in point, an eight-way adjustable driver's seat, rain sensing wipers, roof rails, 17in alloys, power folding mirrors, an alarm immobiliser and electric windows all round.

Improved

It's a mark of modern engineering that though 2.2-litre 184PS 4WD versions of this Captiva are 25 per cent more powerful than their pre-2011 150PS 2.0-litre predecessors, they're also a good deal more economical, with a combined cycle fuel figure that's improved from a so-so 38.2mpg to a more acceptable 44.1mpg. Not surprisingly, you'll better that further in the minority interest front-driven 163PS version of this car, which delivers 45.5mpg.

It's a similar story with emissions, with the 184PS version of this modern Euro5 compatible 2.2-litre diesel emitting 170g/km against its predecessor's 197g/km. Choose the front-wheel drive 163PS model and this figure drops to 164g/km, so like the more powerful version, you'll find it in the 26 per cent BIK band.

What else? Well residual values are about midfield for a family 4x4 of this type, with a predicted figure of around 38 per cent of new value after three years.

And insurance costs should be competitive, with groupings on the 1-50 scale starting at 27 for the entry-level version and rising no higher than 32 for most mainstream models.

And if you've got any doubts at all about buying into the Chevrolet brand, then five years of free servicing, break-down cover and warranty should put them at rest.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:
1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with its Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any
KC documentation, if pedigree.
Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 (AS AMENDED)
ROAD TRAFFIC (TEMPORARY RESTRICTIONS) ACT 1991
BURNWOOD ROAD, CANNOCK
DIVERSION OF VEHICULAR TRAFFIC

NOTICE is hereby given that the Staffordshire County Council intend, not less than seven days from the date of this Notice, to make an Order the effect of which will be to prohibit any vehicle from proceeding in that length of Burnwood Road, Cannock from its junction with Brownhills Road to a point approximately 65 metres in a south westerly direction unless the vehicle is being used in connection with the works; or unless the vehicle is being used for police, fire brigade or ambulance purposes. Limited vehicular access to frontages will be available.
 The preferred alternative route for traffic will be available via Brownhills Road, 84154 Walsall Road, Burntwood Road and vice versa.

THE ORDER WILL COME INTO OPERATION ON 17 MARCH 2014, AND THE SAID WORKS WILL COMMENCE ON OR AS NEAR AS PRACTICABLE TO THAT DATE. IT IS ANTICIPATED THAT THE WORKS WILL BE COMPLETED BY 25 APRIL 2014.

The Order will remain in force for a period of 18 months or until the main replacement works, which it is proposed to carry out on or near the road, have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Dynamo power on to secure a victory

Cannock Chase Football League
BOTTOM team Dynamo Lamb won their second game of the season with an outstanding 4-1 beating of Belt Road taking them from bottom to seventh.

Leaders Littleton won at the power station beating Rugeley Utd 2-1. Ridware Oak completed the double over old rivals Brereton Town with a comfortable 4-0 win. Yates Sports beat Hawkins Sports 4-1.

Bar Sports climbed out of the relegation zone by beating Nelson Inn 3-0. The Drill of Burntwood beat AFC Jubilee 2-1. CK77 easily beat Chase Spartans 6-0. Division Two Cup Quarters Hawkins Inex pulled off a cup upset by knocking out second placed Olly's 3-1. Talbot knocked out Victoria Ath 2-0. Leaders Pear Tree walloped the Fern 6-0. Hen House beating the Nest 4-1. Nags Head beat Cannock Ex 3-1. Soldiers drew 0-0 with Woody's. Pied Piper to beat Prairie Farm 1-0.

Brereton Town Cup Quarters
Brereton Social Lion beat Red White & Blue 2-1.

Hutton's exile due to wages

BOSS Paul Lambert has lifted the lid on Alan Hutton's Villa exile and admitted he has been frozen out because he earns too much.

The claret and blues chief has confirmed for the first time financial reasons are behind Hutton's banishment.

The Scotland international - who has been called up by Gordon Strachan to face Poland next month - is on £40,000-a-week at Villa Park.

Hutton has not played for Lambert at Villa with his last appearance coming under Alex McLeish at Tottenham in May, 2012.

And Lambert admitted the right-back, whose contract expires in 2015, will not play again as they look to get him off the wage bill.

"It will be unlikely he will ever play here - he knows that. We need to get the structure down to a level," said Lambert, who has also shipped out big earners Stephen Ireland and Darren Bent.

NOW Firsts back to winning ways

AFTER a series of disappointing results Cannock NOW National Premier League side returned to winning ways with a convincing 8-3 win over Hampstead & Westminster.

Hampstead arrived at Chase Park in disarray, having lost their away kit en-route. Cannock saw a chink in the Hampstead armour and pressured their defence from the off. After four minutes Cannock were awarded a penalty corner.

This was deftly deflected into the net by Martin Ebbage to chalk up Cannock's first. Cannock continued to pressurise the Hampstead goal but it was the visitors who claimed the next goal when a wayward tackle by Josh Gunnell was penalised. Neil Hamilton duly dispatched this to level the scores.

Cannock then struck back and despite the Hampstead keeper scrambling away two attempts on goal, the ball fell to Scottish international Russell Anderson who ballooned the back of the net with a fierce drive from the top of the D.

Cannock's next goal was the pick of the bunch with England Under 21 Nick Bandurak picking a high ball from the air and immediately striking a beautifully-timed half-volley reverse hit past the bemused Hampstead keeper.

The early period of the second half saw Cannock's most dominant section. In a nine-minute spell of pressure Cannock scored a further four goals. The first of these came after 37 minutes when England international Dave Beckett turned and struck a goal bound ball from the top of the D.

On 44 minutes Pete Jackson found the net from a penalty corner. A minute later Beckett scored his second from a well-worked Andy Appleton cross. In the next minute Martin Ebbage added his second with a solo drive into the D and a pinpoint shot that left the keeper stranded.

Cannock were comfortably six goals in the lead which probably accounted for a couple of defensive errors that presented Hampstead with two goals. In the closing minutes Cannock continued on the offensive.

After a steal by Captain Marc Edwards, when pressing deep in the Hampstead half, the ball fell once again to Dave Beckett, whose reverse strike rocketed into the net for his hat-trick and Cannock's eighth.

The Seconds played host to Birmingham University with a 3-1 win. Goals from Louie Morris, Lewis Jekett and Nav Degun.

The Thirds won 5-2 at Edgbaston. Goals from Charleston (2), Edwards, Widdowson and Fair. The Fourths beat Worcester 3-1 (Hodgetts, Hill and Joiner). The Fifts drew 2-2 with Rugby (Machin and Wigg.) The Sixths beat Leek 3-1. The Sevenths won 3-0 win over Bridgnorth Fifts.

Side has to settle for share of points

Cannock Ladies 1sts 1
Beeston Ladies 2nds 1
CANNOCK started strong and kept their patience before Heeley made a great run down the right hand side and after her initial shot was saved she converted the rebound to take it to 1-0.

Beeston pushed on and continued to apply pressure and were rewarded with a well-worked equaliser.

Cannock Ladies 2nds 1
Kettering Ladies 1sts 2

Cannock went a goal down in the first half but kept pushing for the equaliser. The equaliser came in the second half when Louise Morley-Humphrey found the back of the net.

Kettering scored the winning goal late in the second half.

Player of the match went to Sarah Drayton-Chana for her hard work in midfield and defence.

Cannock 3rds/4ths 2
Phoenix Blues 1sts 5

Phoenix opened the scoring in the first half before Cannock pulled one back.

Second half Phoenix's experience showed against the Cannock mixed team bringing the final score 5-2 to the visitors.

A gr-eight cup show by Khalsa

Sporting Khalsa 8
Bartley Green 0

AFTER the disappointment of Saturday Khalsa returned to winning ways by progressing into round two of the Premier Division Cup by romping to an 8-0 victory over Bartley Green in a game which they dominated right from the off.

Khalsa started the game in complete control, having four chances to take the lead inside the opening 15 minutes before a hat-trick from Liam Hughes saw Khalsa open up three-goal lead before half-time.

Khalsa went into the break with a healthy 3-0 lead.

The second half saw Khalsa continue to dominate the game with a further five goals coming from a brace from Liam Hughes to take his tally to five goals, and couple of goals from Mark Habbershaw and a late goal from Leon Brown.

Stalemate as Price keeps out Yeltz side

Halesowen Town 0 Chasetown 0
HALESOWEN and Chasetown shared the points although the local derby stalemate still provided plenty of goal-scoring chances.

Ben Haseley struck the Chasetown side netting after goalkeeper Ryan Price turned away Iyseden Christie's fifth-minute header but in-form Chasetown soon countered when Joe Halsall's tricky shot was grabbed by home goalkeeper Matt Sargeant.

Haseley rifled into the Chasetown side-netting once again at the far post in the 29th minute but the visitors responded once more when Tesfa Robinson screwed a 36th minute shot wide.

At the start of the second half Chasetown goalkeeper Price denied Christie twice within a minute when he tried to open the scoring.

Price pulled off a fine 52nd minute save after Christie headed on Tom Tonks' long throw-in and then clutched the ball above head height after Christie beat Robinson to a long ball and tried to send it into the net.

But it was the Scholars who went mightily close to breaking the deadlock on the hour when a right wing free-kick bounced around in the home six-yard box and, frustratingly, Robinson fired over the bar from close range to keep the game scoreless.

Yeltz defender Kris Green then came to the home rescue with a superb headed goal-line clearance after Jazz Luckie worked free down the right in the 65th minute.

Late on, Haseley misfired again for Halesowen on a couple of occasions in front of goal and Asa Charlton drilled just wide with five minutes remaining as the second-placed hosts sought a vital winner.

But in injury time the Yeltz defence needed to hold firm against two potentially dangerous Chasetown free-kicks.

Halesowen Town: Sargeant; Green, Charlton, Forde, Hull (c), Tilt, Griffiths (MacKenzie 83), Tonks (Lait 78), Christie, Haseley (Penney 86), Turner.

It's late horror show for Hayes

Causeway United 8
Heath Hayes 1

HEATH Hayes suffered their worst ever Midland Alliance defeat conceding five goals in the last 10 minutes.

Things started in nightmare fashion when a misplaced header by Adam Robinson presented Ben Evans with a chance to put the home side one up after only 16 seconds.

The home side's second goal came on 20 minutes when Aaron Lloyd beat three men before planting a fine volley into the corner of the net.

Hayes came back well and held their own for the rest of the half and deservedly pulled a goal back just before the break courtesy of a fine strike from Tom Burnham.

Play was fairly even at the start of the second half. On the hour Sam Rock scored with the Hayes defence waiting for an offside flag which never came to give his side a 3-1 lead.

Hayes then introduced three substitutes in an effort to get back into the game but things went catastrophically wrong and an uncharacteristic error from Ben Maddox presented Lloyd with his side's fourth goal on 78 minutes.

The visitors then completely fell apart and further goals from Pearlman, Lloyd, Evans and Rock completed the defeat.

Ray back in the dugout

LEGENDARY boss Ray Graydon is set for a shock one-off return to the Walsall dug-out.

The former chief, who twice led the club to promotion, will take charge of a Saddlers Legends team at the Club Legends Cup tournament this summer.

Graydon, affectionately known by fans as "Sir Ray", has agreed to manage a side of 10 former players and five fans. They will take on teams from Midlands rivals Wolves, Villa, Albion and Blues, along with a media team in the tournament on July 12 at Birmingham's LG Arena.

All money raised will go to support the charity Cure Leukaemia.

Former players poised to line-up for the Saddlers include Tony Millard, Mark Taylor, Andy Reece, Brian Palgrave, Tony Barras and Andy Tilson.

Trying game as early lead is blown away

Handsworth 46 Burntwood 16

THIS result keeps Handsworth very much in the race for promotion and all but extinguished any hopes Burntwood have of playing level 7 rugby next season.

The visitors led 16-8 at the break but they were blown away in the second period, particularly in the last quarter when they conceded four converted tries.

Will Peach opened the scoring with a well-struck penalty.

It only took the home side a minute to level the scores with a penalty given against Burntwood for side entry to a maul. Peach sid a penalty kick right of the posts from the restart but put his side back into the lead on 19 minutes with another attempt.

Peach was right of the target with a long range penalty kick on 26 minutes which proved costly when his side knocked on the deep restart kick to give the home side a scrum on halfway. They worked the blind side and the right winger escaped three tackles to scoot down the touchline for a try to put Handsworth ahead. With the half almost at an end, Burntwood finally gave themselves a lead to take into the second half with a try from Shelley and Peach conversion. Despite being a man down, the hosts were soon deep in visitors' territory. A tapped penalty was moved left for a prop forward to prove unstoppable, going in for an easily converted try under the posts.

To their credit Burntwood hit back with an excellent attack. They kept possession well, moving the ball left, right and then left again in a move which was halted illegally and Handsworth found themselves with another player in the sin bin.

The resulting penalty was tapped to feed the backs but with a clear overlap the final pass was spilled.

With one player back from the bin, the hosts went ahead with a penalty goal after 55 minutes. Handsworth, having spilled a couple of try scoring opportunities with dropped passes, pulled away when the outside centre made a break between the centres and dummed full back Taylor for a fine individual try.

A catch and drive paved the way for the home No. 8 to clinch the bonus point. Burntwood have another away league trip this Saturday when they visit Newcastle (Staffs). The AXV welcome Burton 3rds (merit table) and the Development Squad is away to Warley 2nds (merit table).

Football leagues to join up

TWO of the Midlands' biggest football leagues are to merge this summer when the Alliance joins forces with the Combination at the end of the season.

They will form the new Midland League for the 2014-15 campaign, with Alliance clubs placed in the Premier Division of a four-tier pyramid.

Combination sides, currently one of the main feeder leagues to the Alliance, will entirely make up a Midlands League Division One, Two and Three.

The Combination and Alliance will combine under a single board with the four divisions covering steps five, six and seven of the non-league pyramid.

Mick Joiner, chairman of the Midland Alliance, said: "I am pleased that the FA has helped us and that we have finally been able to get this done."

"No club from any of the feeder leagues will be disadvantaged. That was one of the conditions of our agreement with the FA."

Clubs from the Alliance's other feeder leagues, the West and East Midlands Leagues, will not be disadvantaged. Promoted sides will go into the top tier.

PITMEN GRIND OUT A VICTORY

Hednesford Town 2 Histon 1

HEDNESFORD Town boss Rob Smith declared he was simply happy to have secured the three points after seeing his Hednesford Town side overcome a young and spirited Histon side.

At a bitterly cold Keys Park, with a goal apiece from Marvin Robinson and Nathan Woolfe, The Pitmen triumphed on Saturday afternoon.

"We are just very happy to have got the win as our performance was not one of the better ones we have put in this season. We are struggling a little at the moment, so it was all about grinding out the result."

"We have identified six wins to get us in the play-offs and now we only need five more."

Towering

A tepid first half was notable only for a towering header by Nathan Blissett, ruled out, probably correctly for offside and a clash between Hednesford left-back Darren Campion and Histon midfielder Lewis Taaffe. This saw the former booked for a push of the head towards the latter, who was carded for a reaction which upset the Keys Park fans.

Blissett limped off before the break with an ankle injury to be replaced by Marvin Robinson and it was him and fellow substitute Wayne Riley who helped spring the game into life after half time.

Riley skipped past Peter Grant's tackle, saw his shot saved superbly by Charlie Grainger only for Nathan Woolfe to tap in from six yards out to open the scoring in the 51st minute.

Football

Hednesford's lead was doubled three minutes later when a superb pass by Tom Thorley found Robinson who finished well past the goalkeeper.

Histon quickly halved the deficit with the goal of the game when Nathan Hicks hit an unstoppable volley past Dan Crane 60 seconds after Hednesford's second goal.

To the credit of Histon's young side, once Robinson had missed a great chance to put the game to bed just past the hour mark, they pushed forward in search of an equaliser. They nearly found it when Grant hit a left foot volley which looped over Crane and onto the top of the cross bar.

Paul McCone and Ben Bailey, at the heart of Hednesford's defence, repelled the attacks of the away side, ably assisted by substitute Dave Macpherson, to ensure The Pitmen stay on course for a play-off spot so craved by the teams behind them.

A trip to Boston United this Saturday marks what is, on paper at least, their biggest away fixture remaining this season.

The Pitmen's Nathan Blissett thought he had scored the first goal but it was then disallowed

Saddlers rematch tickets sell out

WOLVES fans have again showed their commitment to the cause after the club announced their allocation for next month's derby at Walsall is already sold out.

The last of the 3,400 available tickets for the game at the Banks's Stadium on March 8 were snapped up last week. Walsall won the first league meeting between the sides 1-0.
